Report U. S. Bomber Landed In Russia Adds To Jap Worry

(International News Service)

Japan's apparent fear that American military leaders have devised a plan whereby they can bomb the Imperial empire almost at will was increased today following a Moscow announcement that a United States bombing plane had landed in Siberia after losing its bearing.

The official Soviet news agency, Tass, said an American bomber had made a forced landing in Russia's Siberian maritime province last Saturday, the day on which four Japanese cities suffered aerial bombardments.

Moscow quoted reports from Kharbarovsk, 400 miles north of the Soviet port and naval base of Vladivostok, which related that the American bomber came down in Russian far eastern territory after the raids on Japan. The point at which the landing was made was not given. Thus it was not known whether the bomber came down along the Pacific coast or near Kharbarovsk itself, which is 200 miles inland. Probability that the bomber landed in an isolated area was seen in the fact that almost a week has elapsed since the landing took place.

Soviet Report Of Landing Of Plane Received

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24 —President Roosevelt today announced receipt of an official communication from the Soviet government reporting the forced landing on Russian territory of an American bomber.

Asked specifically if the plane was one of those which presumably participated in the recent air raids on Japan, Mr. Roosevelt replied that he did not believe the question needed any answer.

The president's announcement however amounted to the first official admission that there was some truth in the Tokyo reports of the American air raid on Japanese cities.

The Chief Executive declined, however, to be drawn out any further concerning details of the American raid. Asked whether he had any news out of Shangri-La, the President laughingly replied in the negative.

Pressed as to whether he had received official word of the landing of the American plane on Soviet territory, the President said a communication had been received from the Soviet government similar to the reports carried in the press.

The reference to Shangri-La concerned Mr. Roosevelt's remarks at a press conference earlier this week when he declared that he had told an inquisitive dinner guest that Shangri-La was the mythical base from which the planes were operating.

Willkie Warns That Tokyo Bombing Is Warning To U. S.

(International News Service)

ROCHESTER, N. Y., April 24.—Wendell L. Willkie left a warning today that what the American bombers did to Japan the Nipponese bombers can do to the United States.

The 1940 Republican presidential candidate in an address before the Chinese cultural relations at the University of Rochester reiterated his attack on isolationism and said the attack on Tokyo proved that the "long, comfortable era in which we had so much work to do at home that we did not worry much about the rest of the world" has come to an end.

"If we can do it to others, they can do it to us," he thundered.

Denver, Colorado Has Flood Scare

(International News Service)

DENVER, April 24 — Hundreds of Denver families who spent most of the night huddled in public buildings and at the homes of friends were notified today that the swollen Platte river is slowly receding after giving the Rocky Mountain West's largest city one of its worst flood scares.

Police announced that the level of the stream had dropped six inches and that "the danger is virtually over."

Japanese Forces Launch New Attacks On Eastern Burma Front

DARKER PICTURE FOR ALLIED FORCES

(International News Service)

NEW DELHI, Aprril 24.—Japanese forces have launched new attacks in the vicinity of Shwenyaung and Taunggyi, on the eastern Burma front, a communique said today.

Reports of the action were meager, but Chinese troops were believed to be offering strong resistance.

In western Burma, the Japanese were reported digging in south of Yenangyaung after a series of violent attacks and counter-attacks for control of the scorched oil field area.

Chungking, April 24.—Reports from the fighting fronts in Burma today painted an increasingly darker picture for the Chinese and British defenders following new Japanese advances in four different sectors.

On the eastern sector the Jap push was continuing north of Loikaw after a Chinese unit trying to defend that city against overwhelm-

Urges Second Front In Europe

Lord Beaverbrook Believes Time Has Arrived To Strike At Hitler On Coast

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 24.—Lord Beaverbrook, British lease-lend coordinator in Washington, today urged a second front be established on the European continent to help Russia send Hitler to his Waterloo before the end of the year.

In a fighting speech before the 56th annual convention of the American Newspaper Publishers association, the London newspaper publisher praised the stand of the Red Army and described Stalin as the "master of tactics" who will eventually defeat the Nazi military machine.

Lord Beaverbrook said the second front should be opened "somewhere along the 2,000 miles of coastline now held by the Germans and warned that "if the Russians are defeated and driven out of the war, never will such a chance come to us again." He added:

"Strike out to help Russia! Strike out violently! Strike out recklessly! In any event, strike such blows that real help will be our contribution to the Russian battlefront."

Declaring that Britain was now well equipped in guns, ammunition and other necessary weapons to launch such an offensive, Lord Beaverbrook said:

"How admirably Britain is now equipped in weapons of war for directing such an attack on Germany, I well know.

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Selective service officials today estimated that approximately 13,000,000 men between the ages of 45 and 64 inclusive will be enrolled Monday in the nation's fourth draft registration.

Officials said that everything is ready for the registration, which will provide the government with a comprehensive inventory of all available man-power so that needed help can be shifted into the nation's vast war production industries.

It is not planned to call any of the men into active service and a lottery will not be held. They may be called, however, to also serve in noncombatant duties.

At the time of registration, enrollees will only be asked nine simple questions as to name, residence,

SEND PROTEST ON NEW GAS CUT IN AREA

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—The Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce today sent a protest to President Roosevelt against further rationing of gasoline in Western Pennsylvania, predicting a collapse of war production unless workers can readily reach their jobs.

"In this great defense area," the chamber's statement read, "it is vital that the workers be assured of transportation to their jobs and that the normal functions of business be interfered with as little as necessary. Otherwise, the productive war effort will be completely paralyzed."

Complete Plans For Rationing Sugar In County

County Teachers Are Ready To Register Residents And Issue Books

DETAILS WORKED OUT LAST NIGHT

Plans for the issuance of sugar rationing books to residents of the rural section of Lawrence county were completed at a meeting presided over by County Superintendent of Schools John C. Syling in the court house Thursday evening, when representatives were present from every county school, and secured the necessary forms and information.

The county teachers and principals will have charge of registering the trade and public which will be done in the school buildings, and as a result of last night's meeting are ready to take on this important task.

Ration cards will be distributed to the trade on Tuesday and Wednesday of next week in the county high schools, the hours being from 4 to 9 p. m. Anyone disbursing sugar in any form such as a grocery store, eating establishment, etc., will be required to register on Tuesday and Wednesday.

"Total War" Move Forecast Following President's Message

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Congressional leaders today forecast that the nation will move swiftly toward a "total war" program beginning with President Roosevelt's message to congress next Monday.

The new note, it was freely predicted, will be "equality of sacrifice" with all classes and individuals required to bend their individual comforts and desires to an intensified mobilization of resources.

The movement is expected to encompass stiffer taxation, limitation of war profits, broader price-fixing and rationing, a trend toward control of labor beginning with registration of men from 45 to 65, and government pressure for stabilization of wages.

Temporary Lull In Corregidor Attacks

By JOSEPH A. BORS
International News Service

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The battle for Manila Bay developed into a temporary stalemate today, with Corregidor free from aerial attacks for the second day after 12 consecutive days of concentrated bombing and artillery attacks failed to silence the fort's batteries.

Desultory artillery exchanges between Japanese short batteries and Lieut. Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright's big guns continued, but the action was considered so unimportant that the war department issued no communique for a full day.

Pressure At Panay

Japanese pressure against the outnumbered defenders of Panay and Cebu continued, but nothing decisive was reported, although the American-Filipino forces on those islands remained in grave peril because of the enemy's great numerical superiority.

The lull in the latest series of bombing attacks on Corregidor was interpreted by military experts as

Triple Crime At Wellsboro

(International News Service)

WELLSBORO, Pa., April 24 — Jealously was believed today to have been the cause of the triple killing which snuffed out the lives of Norman Button, 26, his 25-year-old wife and Henry Bockus 42, a neighbor, on a tenant farm near Wellsboro yesterday.

Authorities advanced the theory that Button found his wife, Ruth, and Bockus on the front porch and shot them with a 12 guage shotgun before turning the gun on himself. Police said Bockus was killed at close range while Mrs. Button was slain as she attempted to escape.

State Motor Police investigated an argument on the farm Wednesday and found a note on the door which they believe Button left as a blind. The note said "have gone to New York." The bodies were found by a passing bus driver several hours after the killings.

Rostock Is On Baltic Sea 120 Mile Northwest Of Berlin—Is Nazi Base

(BULLETIN)

(International News Service)

LONDON, April 24.—Using giant four-engined bombers, the Royal Air Force early today staged a devastating raid on the German Baltic City of Rostock, site of the factories where the Heinkel fighting and bombing planes are manufactured, and ranged over Berlin in a series of new attacks on Britain's aerial "second front" in Europe.

By CHARLES A. SMITH
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

LONDON, April 24—British bombers inflicted heavy damage on the important German industrial city of Rostock, site of the Heinkel airplane works, during a night raid on northern coastal areas of the Reich, the air ministry said today.

The attack, carried out by a strong force of Royal Air Force bombers under very favorable weather conditions, resulted in widespread fires which sent columns of flames high into the air as the fliers departed.

Military Stronghold

Rostock, on the Baltic sea 120 miles northwest of Berlin, is of great military importance to the Germans. It is one of the chief Nazi bases from which a drive could be launched against Russia following a break-up of ice floes in the Baltic.

Would Forestall Possible Japanese Invasion Attempt Is Report

SOUTH AFRICA IN BREAK WITH VICHY

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

LONDON, April 24 — Observers in London today discussed the imminent possibility that British South African forces may shortly occupy the strategic French Island of Madagascar, in the Indian Ocean off the east coast of Africa, to forestall a Japanese invasion.

The feeling in London appears to be that South Africa most logically will follow up its rupture of diplomatic relations with Vichy yesterday by occupying the Island to prevent any Japanese attempt at seizure.

It was recalled that Premier Jan Christian Smuts in a recent speech warned that South Africa could not stand by idly if such a danger as Japanese invasion threatened.

Break In Relations

The break in diplomatic relations followed receipt of reports that a reign of terror had swept the French Insular possession following orders from Pierre Laval, newly installed as chief of the Vichy French government. Free French sympathizers in Madagascar were said to have been arrested by the hundreds.

Presence of Japanese naval forces in the Indian Ocean and knowledge that the Japanese have established a strong fifth column in Madagascar added to fears that Japan might shortly attempt to seize the island dispatches received from Australia reveal worry there concerning the status of Madagascar. The press welcomed the action of South Africa in severing relations. The Sydney Herald said:

"What is to be the fate of Madagascar . . . This time surely we shall get in first."

Offensive Slackens

(A Finnish communique picked up in Stockholm reported that the Russians had slackened their offensive in the vicinity of the Svir river after launching 150 separate attacks against the Finns.)

(Reuter's news agency said the Vichy radio reported from Hensinki that Baron Carl Von Mannerheim, the famous Finnish general, had congratulated his fighting forces for their recent efforts, which, he said, had broken Russian attacks and resulted in the loss of 14,000 Red army soldiers.)

The Norwegian guerillas have severed German communications with Finland at several points and have killed more than 400 Germans in the last three months after arming themselves with captured German materiel, the Moscow radio reported.

Frequent raids have been launched on transports south of Kirkenaas and one guerilla band successfully blew up a bridge over the Karasjokka river while German artillery units were crossing it en route to Finland, the report claimed.

another victory for the sharpshooting American and Filipino anti-aircraft gunners, but the Japanese were expected to renew their attacks momentarily.

At least 40 heavy Japanese bombers have been shot down by gunners on Corregidor since the outbreak of the Philippine conflict. The mighty fort which has barred the enemy from Manila Bay has fought off between 125 and 150 aerial attacks since early January.

Series Of Attacks

Virtually all the aerial onslaughts against Corregidor have been concentrated in three series: One of six days early in January, one of 12 prior to the fall of Bataan and another of 12 since Nipponese land forces overwhelmed the American-Filipino forces on the peninsula.

Each of the attacks ended in a temporary stalemate after Corregidor's anti-aircraft batteries repeatedly picked off enemy bombers, up to heights of 27,000 feet.

Military men feel certain, however, that the Japanese are taking stock of the situation in preparation for fresh attacks designed to knock out the defending guns which have kept the enemy out of Manila Bay for nearly 20 weeks.

Record Action Of Human Dying Heart

Unique Experiment Tried On Negro Executed In Missouri State Penitentiary

(International News Service)

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., April 24—The action of a dying human heart was recorded by science in a unique experiment early today when Ernest Tyler, 200-pound negro, was executed in the lethal gas chamber at the Missouri state penitentiary for a 1940 Kansas City murder.

Two devices were attached to Tyler's chest. One was an electro-cardiograph which recorded on a film the impulses of his heart. The other device, known as the vibrocardiogram, shaped along lines of a microphone and developed by three St. Louis doctors, recorded the final beats of the dying heart.

Tyler entered the death chamber at 12:13 a. m., and one minute later the deadly fumes were released. The negro went to his death singing spiritual hymns and passages from the old bar room ballad, "Frankie and Johnny."

According to the vibrocardiogram, the heart stopped pumping blood into Tyler's brain at 12:17 a. m., indicating that he was dead.

R. A. F. Plane Soars Over Berlin Area

BERLIN, April 24—(By official German wireless)—A Royal Air Force plane soared over the outskirts of Berlin during the night while other British bombers attacked coastal areas of northern Germany, the official German news agency, DNB, said today.

The lone British raider which appeared over the capital dropped no bombs, it was said, although "some damage to civilian property" resulted from the other attacks. DNB claimed four of the R.A.F. planes were shot down.

The Germans asserted that "strong" Nazi air formations last night attacked harbors and dock installations of military importance on the south coast of England "with good effect." The luftwaffe planes were said to have dropped both fire bombs and high explosives.

to foster, promote, further and advance the social, cultural, commercial, industrial, civic and general interests of the City of New Castle and its suburban area."

Get Results

During the last eight months the organization has accomplished certain results in this direction. Those which everybody knows about are the acquisition of three major industries, namely, the Frank C. Douds Company, the Standard Steel Spring Company and a new defense plant. This has already resulted in a substantial improvement in the economic welfare of the community. It has started a new and larger sphere of activity which will make necessary a greater interest and activity in other related civic and commercial problems. One of the outstanding accomplishments resulting from our obtaining new industries has been a greater spirit of cooperation among all bodies including the County Commissioners, City Council, industry, merchants, railroads, utilities and the labor unions, New Castle, and the Greater New Castle Association, in particular, now have the reputation of cooperating with all branches of the State and Federal Governments, particularly the latter, in their war efforts. Again, the obtaining of new industries, and the assistance given existing industries in obtaining war work which has resulted in their expansion, is proof of this. The full results of the accomplishments to date will not be apparent for another six or eight months but it is the opinion of recognized outside authorities that the result will be approximtaely a fifty per cent increase in industrial employment.

NEW ADVANCES MADE IN BURMA

ing odds managed to break through an enemy cordon and rejoin its main forces.

Intense Fighting

Intensity of the fighting was increasing north of Pyinmana along the Rangoon-to-Mandalay railroad right-of-way following a Chinese withdrawal to the Kyidaunggan vicinity. Reports said the Chinese inflicted heavy losses on the Japanese, but were forced to leave Pyinmana when Nippon mechanized units supported by aircraft staged a new attack which threatened to outflank the defenders.

Another allied withdrawal was effected from Taungdwingyi and farther to the west, fighting was in progress in the vicinity of the Pin river, apparently indicating the Chinese loss of Yenangyaung, the city which they captured with a surprise counter-attack several days ago.

In the battle for Loikaw, the Chinese repulsed a Japanese flanking movement which had reached the northern outskirts of the city, but were forced to retreat when the Japs returned to the attack with reinforcements.

REPORT U. S. BOMBER LANDED IN RUSSIA ADDS TO JAP WORRY

landing in a neutral country be taken into custody. Although Russia is at war with Germany, Japan's Axis partner, friendly relations are maintained with the latter.

"Members of the crew," the Moscow radio reported, "said they had lost their bearings."

If the plane came down in the vicinity of Kharbarovsk after attacking Tokyo it would have traveled 950 miles northwest of the Japanese capital before coming to a landing.

While the reported landing of the American bomber in Siberia gave the Japs some satisfaction that the attack against Tokyo, Yokohama, Nagoya and Kobe was conducted by United States craft they still were without knowledge of where the planes came from.

Washington Silent

Washington remained silent. Both the war and navy departments, even after the Moscow announcements, said they had "no comment".

However, the fact that the planes which threw the Japanese into an extreme state of war jitters apparently were heavy bombers seemed to toss into the discard early suggestions by Tokyo that the attacking craft were launched from aircraft carriers. The Japs claimed that three carriers were sighted off the empire's eastern coast prior to the appearance of the raiders. Bombers of the type which Tokyo said participated in the raids are much too heavy to have been brought to Japanese shores aboard carriers.

Working on the subsequent theory that the planes may have come from land bases, the Japs have been scouting provinces adjacent to Japanese-held territory in China in an effort to determine whether the planes had been operating from Chinese bases.

Russia, in revealing the presence of the grounded American plane in Siberia, was quick to deny that American planes had come from that area.

ICKES AND HENDERSON AT ODDS ON GAS MOVE

weekly ration to be given the average motorist, officials said that the gasoline shortage situation along the Atlantic seaboard is desperate.

Hendersons' office still planned to limit the average motorist to from 2½ to 5 gallons of gasoline a week. Ickes holds that there was "no justification" in anticipating such a drastic cut. In other quarters, it was pointed out that Henderson's rationing plans made provisions to give extra gas allowances to defense workers and others needing cars for essential civilian use. As a result, it was claimed, the rationing plan will strike mainly at pleasure driving and will not be so drastic as it seems at first appearance.

Henderson Has Last Say

In the final analysis, it was pointed out, Henderson has the last say since he holds vast wartime powers delegated to him by President Roosevelt.

Meanwhile, it was learned that the east coast is getting only half its normal supply of gasoline, perhaps even less. Ickes ordered deliveries to filling stations cut by 33 1-3 per cent before Henderson announced the rationing plan. But unless he allows already dangerously low stocks to become more depleted, responsible government authorities in the capital predicted that he would be forced to cut deliveries by 50 or 60 per cent.

CITY OF ROSTOCK HEAVILY BOMBED IN R. A. F. ATTACKS

previous assaults against other militarily important northern German cities and its objective undoubtedly was to lend indirect aid to Russia by slowing down Nazi plans for a Soviet offensive. The nearby city of Lubeck suffered tremendous damage March 28, at which time shipping concentrations which the Germans intended to send to reinforce the Finns were blasted. Likewise the industrial city of Stettin was singled out as a recent target.

Bombed In September

Rostock, one of the most important German commercial ports on the Baltic, was last visited by the R.A.F. on September 11, 1941, when large fires followed a heavy bombing.

The official German news agency, DNB, admitted the raids against Northern Germany before they were officially confirmed in London.

The German broadcast reports said only a lone raider appeared over Berlin but dropped no bombs.

The bombings on the northern coast were said to have resulted in some damage "to civilian property." Four of the British planes were shot down, DNB claimed.

Nazi sources meanwhile asserted that "strong" German air formations during the night attacked harbors and dock installations of military importance on England's south coast. The raids, the Germans asserted were carried out "with good effect."

Luftwaffe planes were said to have dropped both fire bombs and high explosives.

LEASE-LEND IN STRIDE

FOR obvious reasons Washington is not yet prepared to disclose how much lease-lend aid has been sent to various opponents of the Axis and far less now that aid is being routed.

There is satisfaction in the realization that the total amount of this aid dispatched or awaiting delivery exceeds $3,000,000,000. Still more impressive is the fact that in every month since the program started from scratch in mid-March of last year the amount of aid has exceeded that of the month preceding.

Announcement that in February and March the total was in excess of $1,000,000,000, or one-half of that in the entire eleven preceding months, is evidence lease-lend is at last in its stride.

It is gratifying to know that President Roosevelt has given orders nothing must be permitted to interfere with the scheduled supplies for Russia, which is more than holding a 2,500-mile front against Hitler. Russia received two and one-half times as much aid in March as in February, although how much that amounts to is not revealed.

Patriotic Americans ought to hope that she will continue to get this aid in arithmetical progression, month by month, as war production increases. She needs it sorely as the power doing most at the moment to withstand the No. 1 enemy. All hope of laying Hitler low this year, and thus bringing the end of the war in sight, is centered on the Russian front.

SIXTY DAYS FOR A DESTROYER

Launching of a full size destroyer at the Norfolk Navy Yard sixty days after the keel was laid and apparently in an advanced stage of completion sets an all time record for such a vessel.

Such an accomplishment required many things. It involved the smoothest possible working out of all details—the correctness of initial plans, the allocation of adequate materials and the ship's fabrication and delivery to the ways without a hitch.

But it also required the whole-hearted, top speed effort of the workmen engaged on the job. These included not only those in the Navy Yard itself, but scores, perhaps hundreds, in other plants.

Every task to be performed, even in destroyer construction, can't be done in sixty days. But it is such a pattern of smooth, thorough preparation and determined work "24 hours a day, seven days a week" that does jobs like these, jobs that will overwhelm the Axis.

ENDING THE ENEMY PATENT EVIL

President Roosevelt's sweeping order for government seizure of all enemy-owned patents follows disclosures of dealings between American and German business concerns for joint control of the most vital department of war industrial production.

This is the output of strategic materials whose manufacture depends on patented processes and secret technical information. At the Senate committee hearings on "international patent treaties," involving close tie-ups of American and German major industries. Government attorneys have charged serious injury and delay to our defense and war program says the Philadelphia Inquirer.

To the extent that these international cartels helped Germany's war effort, as alleged, they ran directly counter to our government's foreign policy, whatever their legal status. Mr. Arnold, Assistant Attorney General, states his belief that the American firms engaging in these transactions and agreements were not intentionally aiding Germany's military plans. But he contends that in some cases domestic patent laws and the Sherman Act were violated.

One conviction has been obtained for an oil and synthetic rubber deal with the German dye trust, followed by a consent decree making the accompanying patents available to our government.

But there are thousands of enemy-owned patents, covering an almost endless list of processes for producing strategic materials of all kinds, from artificial rubber, foods, fuels and fabrics to substances imperatively needed for airplanes, guns and ammunition.

These patents, not to be confused with those genuinely owned by American citizens, are as much enemy alien property as the Axis-owned stocks or bonds or bank deposits which were taken over by our government long ago.

As for trade and patent agreements between domestic and foreign business concerns, whether some of them harmed our war effort, or helped it, according to conflicting claims, one thing is certain: All future proposals of the kind should first be submitted to our government for approval. They can no longer be regarded as purely private affairs, since they may vitally affect the welfare and even the safety of this nation.

Hints On Etiquette

For a simple home wedding it is allowable for the bride or her parents to write personal notes to favorite relatives and friends inviting them to the ceremony.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

PRIMPING MAKES GIRLS LATE FOR SCHOOL

"My fourteen-year-old daughter will set the alarm clock at 4:30 a. m. in order to primp for school. Even then she may arrive at school late," a mother told me recently. This might have been said in any place in the United States.

The mother also said she wore herself out getting this daughter off to school. "I help her all I can," she added. "She makes good grades at school but is so often tardy. Her father gets very angry at her."

Not A Simple Problem

This is no easy problem, since it is so far-reaching in its effect. Fortunately, this mother indicated an understanding of the girl's desire to primp and said her daughter talks to her a great deal about her personal interests and experiences.

Many other mothers have reported to me that an adolescent daughter will spend one, two, or more hours primping at bedtime. As with this girl, there is a big problem of adequate sleep.

Just what to do about this matter I am not so sure. I am sure, however, the more the parent fusses and fumes the worse it grows to be. It might help some daughters to keep an exact record of the time they spend in this way. Apparently, the problem is most serious when "dates" are beginning to develop. Nor do these extreme cases often mingle much with many other girls.

Teacher Might Help

A highly respected woman teacher might get over to these girls in the regular group that attractiveness does not consist solely of physical appearance, that indeed, the primper tends to become very selfish and, to this degree, rather unlikable. Some teachers, even mothers, are able to help the girl learn to make herself physically attractive in far less time. I have a notion, however, that primping, when the mother does not fuss about it, affords considerable relaxation and therefore, in moderation, can have good mental health values.

The tardiness-to-school problem of the teen-age girl may demand some coercive measures, if authority can be made effective. But mothers who merely nag might as well surrender. A few mothers with self control, might be able to quit talking awhile and help the tardy child get ready for school.

I wish the school were more severe with chronic tardiness, especially at the high school level, just for training in citizenship. One penalty might be to let the chronic offender sit doing nothing for an hour after she arrives late, or sit an hour doing nothing after school, in case she did not come by school bus. In fit weather, this offender might be made to walk back and forth constantly for an hour between definite limits on the athletic field.

At the elementary school age the mother should be able to prevent or cure chronic tardiness at school. Let the child know just when she must leave home for school; that if she leaves a minute late, she will have to remain home half or all day, and sit doing nothing all day—no books, comics, radio—in everybody's sight, fifty minutes at a stretch, with ten minutes recesses. Then when primping time arrives reasonable home controls might prove effective, if necessary.

Solving Parents Problems

Q. You say children should walk to school when the distance is not excessive. What about the young child who must pass through dangerous traffic?

A. Some very young children need to be protected by their parents on the way to and from school. But let these parents walk with their children. It will be good for the health of the parents.

Q. What about the parent who in walking with her young child to school a few blocks from home cuts across the street anywhere and violates other traffic rules?

A. She is thinking of getting him to school and probably in safety. She is not thinking of training him so he, later, will be safe in going alone. She is doing about the worst possible thing to train for safety and citizenship. All our guidance of the child should be in terms of his future, not for just this minute.

Q. What do you think of the parent who, knowing that her teenage youth played hookey the day before will write an excuse saying he was sick?

A. That parents is one of the worst citizens I can think of, giving her child about the best possible education to become a criminal. Yet, all over the United States junior and senior high school principals are telling me that many parents, especially among the well-to-do, are party to this culpable practice, and that it is undermining school discipline.

HAPPIGRAMS

Harry L. Hopkins, that man of many jobs, was interviewed in London not many days ago.

A reporter asked him his present title.

"I clean forgot', was his laughing reply.

Reminded that he is chairman of the Munitions Assignment Board he admitted that that might be his present official title and let it go at that.

Busy men usually don't pay much attention to titles and rank.

The president of one of the country's largest industrial firms uses only his name and that of his corporation on his business card.

But his employes give the purchasing agent many a headache by insisting that their full title must be engraved on the little board.

A title has never yet added to a man's stature any more than his strut makes the peacock an eagle.

One of the greatest men in history never used a title. He signed all his documents and letters simply, "A. Lincoln."

HINTS AND DINTS

Sun sets tonight 7:47. Sun rises tomorrow 6:08.

There's one encouraging bit of news that has come out of the war scarcity of metal. It is reported that there is going to be a shortage of lawn mowers this summer. Now we won't have to go out and cut the grass every time our neighbor does, unless he loans us his mower.

The Sheep Hill philosopher mourns that just when the weather becomes warm enough to enjoy sitting on a park bench, someone always up and paints 'em.

An old man was making his first visit to any army post. He watched two sentries passing and repassing each other in silence and without a glance. After several minutes he stepped up to them as they were passing each other and said, "Come now boys, why not make up and be friends?"

My idea of a snobbish hitch-hiker is the one who refused to ride in my car because it did not have a radio.

Doris Dazzle, one of the beauties of the Fernfrill shoppe, came to work and breathlessly told the girls she had received a marriage proposal.

"Was he on his knees when he proposed?" asked Flossie.

"No, I was," said Doris.

Instead of grumbling about selling one's old scrap to the government to help build bombers and tanks, local residents should be tickled to death that someone will haul away this debris and actually pay you for it.

Corporal—The boys tell me that girl you introduced me to is pretty hard, eh?

Soldier—Hard is right. She's so hard it would take a diamond to make an impression on her.

Asbestos gloves are being issued to some American soldiers, we are informed. Those lads are going to nab the Japs even if they have to chase them all the way to Hades.

A gawky countryman in southern Missouri breezed into a store where they were busy unpacking new merchandise. One box particularly interested him, and he asked, "What are them things?"

"Pajamas," replied the clerk.

"What are pajamas?" asked the boy.

"Why, they are night clothes. Want to buy a suit?" replied the clerk.

"Heck, no," came the reply. "I ain't no social rounder. When night comes, I just go to bed."

A shortage of insecticides is threatened. Maybe we will have to go back to the days of those old flour-sack paper fly chasers, which were gotten out at meal time to chase the flies out of the house, so you could sit down and eat in reasonable peace.

The gallant English can joke about war, but what of it? Don't we joke about wives like Maggie?

Father Coughlin is beginning to find that Social Justice can be carried so far that it will become obnoxious. He should be mighty thankful that he is permitted to live in such a wonderful country as this where one can get away with some pretty raw stuff without being called to account.

The son of a local merchant was getting his examination in school.

"How many seasons are there?" he was asked.

"Two."

"That's an odd answer. What are the seasons?"

"The slack one and the busy one."

Sailor—Don't bother me. I'm writing a letter to my girl.

Soldier—But why are you writing so slowly?

Sailor—My girl can't read very fast.

IMPRESSING YOUR BEST GIRL

"I have just met a wonderful girl and want to make a good impression on her and her family when making a date with her."

Answer: To impress her with the fact that she is not your second or third choice for the date, ask her for it several days in advance and if you wish to keep within the good graces of her parents, do not telephone her at meal time. As she will rate you by the impression you make on others, act with dignity in public. Do not take her arm unless she needs its support. Follow her through doors and into dining rooms. If you are going to the theater, get your tickets in advance. When you call for her, do not sit outside in your car and blow your horn. Come to her door, await her exit and help her into your car before entering it yourself.

Bear in mind that being late for a date is woman's privilege, but a man's iniquity.

Question: Should the woman follow or precede her escort down a receiving line?—A. M.

Answer: She should precede him.

Question: If a dinner party is given for a bridal party which includes two married men but not their wives, should the wives be invited?—B. G.

Answer: Yes.

Question: If, when an usher at a wedding goes to the rear of the church, he finds several women waiting to be escorted to their seats, what should he do?—Usher.

Answer: e should escort no more than two at a time, unless the ceremony is about to begin and time is short, when he should offer his arm to the oldest and ask the others to follow him down the aisle.

FROM MY OLD SCRAP BOOK

Ten weary, footsore travellers
All in a woeful plight,
Sought refuge in a wayside inn
On a dark and stormy night.
"Nine beds, no more," the landlord said,
"Have I to offer you—
Eight men can each one have a room
But the ninth must serve for two."
At this, an angry clamor rose
And arguments began.
Whereon the cunning host devised
This most ingenious plan:—
A-B-C-D-E-F-G-H-I
In a room marked A two men were placed
The third was lodged in B.
The fourth to C was then assigned,
The fifth retired to D.
In E the sixth was tucked away,
In F the seventh man:
The eighth and ninth in G and H
And then to A he ran
Wherein the host, as I have said,
Had laid two travellers by,
And taking one, the tenth and last,
He lodged him safe in I.

* * *

Nine single rooms, a room for each,
Were made to serve for ten,
And this it is that puzzles me
And many wiser men.

Air Raids Can Wreak Havoc Among Japs
Were First To Advertise Recent Raids
Within Easy Hop Of Several U. S. Bases

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist

WASHINGTON, April 24—Why the Japs themselves happened to be first to broadcast news of the aerial bombing of their own cities of Tokyo, Yokohama, Kobe and Nagoya isn't very clear yet.

The bombers' delay in advertising it is understandable. It stood them in hand to prevent the islanders from knowing where the raiders came from, and an announcement would have been calculated to inform them. The United Nations' strategists agree, however, that they'd have supposed the Mikado's policy would have been to keep the affair hushed up as long as possible, too, instead of which his publicity outfit was the initial source of information.

It was enough of a puzzle to make capitals like Washington and London rather doubtful, for awhile, of the Jap report's truthfulness. Still, it wasn't easy to see any good reason for Tokyo to fake the story.

One detail in Nippon's account of the event was recognized as giving it a distinct ring of probability. That was inclusion of the item that most of the raid's damage was done to "schools and hospitals." That's exactly what Axis spokesmen invariably say when a democratic thrust at their forces has been particularly devastating.

Why Not Earlier.

The fact is that there has been considerable wondering why the United Nations' planes haven't been busy over Japan a good deal sooner than now.

The island chain is within an easy hop from the Aleutians or from Russia's Asiatic mainland, not to mention its availability to aircraft carriers off its coast from all points of the compass.

CRANKMIRE ON BICKERING

Said Old Crankmire to his neighbor in his terse but certain way:
"There is nothing more important than this war we're in today.
We are through with rest and pleasure, or we should be till it's won.
It's a job we've undertaken and we've got to get it done.
"There is nothing more important than the tasks which lie ahead.
Every hour of time that's wasted will be paid for with our dead.
Every bolt that isn't driven, every wrench that's tossed aside,
Will mean so much more of anguish till we turn the battle's tide.
"There is left no doubt about it! It's as plain as plain can be,
We need bombers for the sky lanes and great steamships for the sea!
We need tanks and shells and cannon, and we need them right away,
And the foes I'm most afraid of now are 'bickering' and 'delay'.
"It's these enemies within us that we have to master first,
The whiner and complainer and the spreader of the worst!
And the most important business is to dedicate our powers
Undivided to the struggle, until victory is ours."

The World and the Mud Puddles

WARTIME CENSORSHIP

There is much in the newspapers today which the newspapers say comes from official sources—things which should never be said publicly.

For instance, I see by the publications of April 9th that on reliable authority, it is predicted that we are going to send soldiers to Europe very soon. I called the attention of a retired Admiral of the United States Navy to that statement and said to him that I thought that sort of a publication was a very serious mistake.

"Oh," said he, "that is just propaganda." Propaganda or not, it is not so good. Neither is the statement of the Secretary of the Navy that the underseas menace in the Atlantic Ocean was going to be controlled very promptly by some new device of the United States Navy.

Why talk about such things? Such things should be kept "under your hat." If we have a new device, don't tell the enemy. If we are going to do anything, don't tell the enemy. Perhaps all of this talk is to level the apprehension of the Japanese that we are going to do something to Tokyo or Nagasaki, or occupy Wake or Guam.

It all comes down to this: How comprehensive is the phrase "military information?" Juust when does it aid the enemy and when does it cease to be of comfort to him. How much is to our interest to tell the public? How much can be revealed without jeopardizing our common welfare? These are questions of extreme importance to America today for on the answers to them hang public opinion and its handmaiden, national morale.

Of course, they are not easy questions. They cannot be answered with rules that are hard and fast. What might be highly confidential and dangerous information at one time or in one set of circumstances might easily become, under different conditions, not only innocuous but even of actual value when broadcast on every wave length. But the dividing line is vague, and the decision often dangerous. Naturally the tendency is to err on the conservative side, to adopt the policy of "when in doubt, suppress." Obviously, no one wants to help the enemy and the case for secrecy in vital matters is convincing and unquestioned.

But is there any justification for a rigid, blanket policy of secrecy? America cannot win on faith alone. We must have facts. We need the good news and we need the bad news. And we can "take" the bad news. That old maxim is wrong today. No news is not invariably good news. It is often an omen of bad news and a fertile field for disrupt-rumors. The best evidence that we may be approaching a more intelligent understanding of censorship comes in a statement of policy by General Douglas MacArthur. He said, in part:

"My main purpose is not to suppress news but to get news for you. The reason for efforts by the United States and Australia to inform the public what is going on is that if it does not know the truth its imagination operates, thereby reducing confidence. Silence will begin to react against you. It therefore is a crime. It is important that the public should be told so it can summon confidence and determination of purpose in support of the war effort . . ."

Such an intelligent attitude comes like fresh air to a room musty and clouded with smoke. General MacArthur is not only a good soldier. He is also a first-class psychologist and public relations adviser. His observations should be compulsory reading for others in the government who are faced with the complex but vital problem of wartime consorship.

One Man's Opinion

By WALTER KIERNAN
(International News Service Staff Writer)

Mrs. Joe Citizen is not complaining—she is just wondering.

She used to give the kids peanut butter because it was a cheap spread. It has doubled in price.

The kids go down for an ice cream cone and come back for another penny—they've gone to six cents.

She paid 15 cents apiece for the pork chops she put in front of Joe last night—and pork is parceled out as a surplus commodity to the food stamp clients.

Joe reports that the coffee pot on his corner has "run out of large containers"—that's what they told him—and is getting a dime for the tiny container of coffee the office boy brings to his desk at noon.

So Mrs. Joe Citizen is wondering.

She is wondering if maybe a little offside price boosting isn't going on.

She isn't complaining—yet—because Leon Henderson has pegged sugar at six cents a pound and he's done a lot of other good things but she thinks he'll have to do more.

Thought for the Day: Chisel while you work.

Collection Of Scrap Proceeds

Huge Amount Will Be Collected In Lawrence County It Is Indicated

There are sections of New Castle where the scrap collectors have not yet appeared it was learned today and residents are wondering if their district or their home has been forgotten.

Not at all. The answer is that New Castle has co-operated so heartily in the collection of scrap that the trucks are being filled each day much faster than was anticipated and there is a possibility that the entire city will not have been covered by Saturday night.

The total scrap unloaded in the yards thus far has been roughly, about 185 tons according to N. F. Vidal, chairman of the collection. On this basis, New Castle will average about 10 pounds per capita which is an excellent showing. It may go above that. To this will be added some heavy scrap which will come not from householders but from such sources as the street car rails, the total of which will be counted.

The scrap collection in the county will start Monday morning, April 27 as scheduled. This may mean a few sections in New Castle will not be covered for a few days and if this happens citizens are asked to be patient. The delay, if there is one, will be caused only from the fact that everybody has co-operated, and the yield has been heavy.

Out through the rural sections the farmers are ready for the scrap collector. The yield from the farms should be heavy for it is estimated that the scrap around farms will average at least five hundred pounds each.

In the meantime, if the scrap collector hasn't visited you yet, keep on digging. You will always find a little more metal you can sell.

necessary. Dropping lighted matches on 'em would approximately do the business.

It would be barbarous, certainly. It would involve the hospital patients and school children that the Japs refer to, and women and other miscellaneous noncombatants.

It would work, though.

Jap invaders, elsewhere, would not last long with no home reservoir of supplies to rely on, a home government shot full of holes, and no place to go home to, either. Talk about morale! Mercy!

You have to have lived in Japan to appreciate how vulnerable it is.

The Mikado's headquarters, in Tokyo, is a palace, with a big, walled park around it, and the Emperial hotel, where foreigners stop, is a handsome shack, but you can knock the average house or store down with your fist if you feel like it. Yokahama and Kobe are equally fragile.

I'm not so darned sure of the average Jap's reliability, from the government's standpoint, either.

There Is Discontent

The hereditary military crowd are dependable to the extent of a willingness to commit suicide if requested to commit it, but they're comparatively limited in number. The hoi-polloi aren't so contented.

When I was hanging out in Tokyo, as an American news correspondent, I had a business alliance with a concern called the Nippon Dempo Tsusin Sha, meaning the Japanese Telegraphic News company, of which an old bird named Mitsunaga, who's figured in recent dispatches, was managing editor.

One day Editor Mitsunaga asked my wife, "What's especially impressed you about our country?"

Well, in Japan, when you want a bit of local transportation, you don't call a taxi or a horse cab. You requisition a jinricksha—a wee little phaeton, with a human being running between the shafts, hauling you—same as in China.

Said my wife, answering Mr. Mitsunaga, "The main thing that's impressed me is the spectacle of men, on two legs, functioning as four-footed critters."

"Lady," cried the Nippon Dempo journalist, "you put your finger on the very thing that's the curse of this nation. It's the terrible degredation of our masses."

It didn't sound to me as if the Japs were thoroughly contented with their system.

My hunch is that they might easily rise up against the government.

OPEN DOOR CLASS HAS ANNUAL BANQUET

Annual banquet for Open Door Bible Class members of the Third United Presbyterian church, was held Thursday evening in the church dining room, with a large number in attendance.

The full dinner course was served at 6:30 o'clock, at tables nicely appointed. The program presented, was in charge of Mrs. Ruth Lutz, chiarman of the social committee. Piano solos were contributed by Marjorie Duncan and Jean McConnell. A selected recitation was given by Irma Allen while appropriate talks were also heard. These were given by Rev. C. R. Thayer and Arthur Minick. Group singing was later featured.

President, Mrs. G. Allen presided over the business period, during which time a gift was presented to Mr. Minick, their retiring teacher.

Installation of officers was impressively carried out, and the meeting following, was turned over to their newly elected president, Mrs. Ruth Lutz.

Guests were Rev. and Mrs. Thayer and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Minick.

Section A, Y. L. B.

Section A of the Y. L. B. class of the Third U. P. church met in the home of Mrs. Albert Lutz, Maryland avenue, Thursday evening.

Ninnie Howard was the leader, and Mrs. Harry Thomas conducted devotions. Sewing was the later pastime.

A dainty lunch was served later, the hostess being aided by her daughter Alma.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Ninnie Howard, Huron avenue, on May 8.

N. H. G. Club

Miss Nettie Irene Mann was hostess to the N. H. G. club Thursday evening in her home, Norwood avenue.

Tables of 500 were in play, high score trophies going to Marian Haley, Jean Allen and Helen Book, the latter also receiving the galloper.

At an appropriate hour, Mrs. Wesley Mann aided her daughter in serving a delicious lunch.

The next meeting will be with Edith McNickle, East Washington street.

Sawalla Club

On Thursday evening, Mrs. Carl Holmes, of McCleary avenue, was hostess to the Sawalla club.

Cards were the diversion with prizes going to Mrs. Herman Shaffer and Mrs. Sam Boughter.

Mrs. Edwin Winger was a special guest.

Mrs. Edwin Winger was a special guest.

The hostess served refreshments following the card-playing.

The club will meet next on May 7.

M. L. Club Meets

M. L. club members met with Mrs. Louis Augostine, 1016 Hazen street, on Thursday evening.

A hike was planned to take place on Thursday, April 30. Card playing was won by Mrs. Nancy Vitale and the club token by Mrs. Nancy Veri.

Assisting the hostess in serving a dainty lunch was Mrs. Teresa DeNucci.

May 7 is the date for the next meeting with Mrs. Nancy Citale, 709 East Lutton street.

MISS CAROLYN COSEL REPRESENTS COLLEGE

Miss Carolyn Cosel, daughter of Mr and Mrs. William L. Cosel of 215 North Jefferson street, represented Pennsylvania College for Women on the panel which discussed the question "Shall we have government regulation of labor?" at Mount Mercy college recently.

Miss Cosel is a freshman at Pennsylvania College for Women and has taken an active part in intercollegiate discussion and debate at the Pittsburgh college. She is also participating in the defense program at PCW which was organized early last summer.

W. E. Club

Entertaining at the home of her sister, Mrs. Ray Showalter, Warren avenue, Thursday evening, Mrs. George Vanus was hostess to the W. E. club for 500.

Score awards for the card game went to Mrs. Everett Arrow, Mrs. Clarence Hollis and Mrs. Harold Good.

Both Mrs. Showalter and Mrs. Leonora Kerr, a special guest, received guest gifts.

Later, refreshments were served.

Mrs. Arrow, Wallace avenue, will have the club May 7.

Cavalier Club

Mrs. Charles Scaduto of South Ray street was a pleasing hostess Thursday evening to members of the Cavalier club.

Games were played by the members and the door prize was won by Mrs. Sebastian Vericella.

Special guest present was Mrs. Lena Indovina of Pittsburgh and she received a lovely gift.

A delicious lunch was served on a nicely arranged table, the hostess being aided by Mrs. Sam Champ and Josephine Champ as hostess.

On May 7, Mrs. Sebastian Champ of Butler avenue will entertain.

O. T. I. Club

Card and games were played at the O. T. I. club meeting held in the home of Mrs. Leo Orielli, 113 Quest street, Thursday evening.

Prize was won by Mrs. Phil Pauline. Special guests were Mrs. Bridget Budellazze and Mrs. James Witon.

Later lunch was served by the hostess, with the assistance of Jessie Orielli and Mrs. James Witon.

On May 7, Mrs. Joseph DeLillo, of 408 Division street, will be hostess.

News And Views From Pennsylvania Capital

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Apr., 23-Although Gov. Arthur H. James has taken no official stand as yet in the republican primary campaign it is expected that a formal statement endorsing Maj. Gen. Edward Martin for governor will be issued in due time. The endorsement is expected to embrace the candidacy of Secretary of Banking John C. Bell, Jr., Martin's running mate for lieutenant governor, and the rest of the ticket backed by the republican organization. Opposing this ticket is a slate headed by Senator James J. Davis.

It is not known whether Gov. James will make any political speeches in behalf of the Martin slate before the May 19 primary election. It is expected, however, that he will campaign for the republican candidates during the fall election in the event the organization slate successfully hurtles the primary. It is doubted that James would take a very active part in the campaign if Davis wins the nomination for governor, although he might make several token speeches in his behalf. The governor is not a candidate for office this year and under the constitution cannot succeed himself when he leaves office in January.

Despite its difficulties, which necessitated a special session of the general assembly, Pennsylvania apparently has been more fortunate in its attempt to reapportion the congressional districts of the state than has New York. At Albany, the New York legislature defeated a congressional reapportionment measure and simultaneously voted down an attempt to reapportion the legislative districts, the first in 25 years. In Pennsylvania, the last general legislative reapportionment was in 1921, although the constitution requires reapportionment of representative and senatorial districts every 10 years.

The New York legislature has adopted unemployment compensation legislation similar to that approved by the recent special session of the Pennsylvania general assembly. As in Pennsylvania, the New York law increases maximum weekly benefits from $15 to $18 and reduces the waiting period from three to two weeks. But benefits will be paid for 20 instead of 13 weeks, compared to 16 weeks under the New Pennsylvania law. In addition, the New York legislature approved payments for partially-unemployed workers, with the proviso that the weekly total of earnings and benefits must not exceed $27. The Pennsylvania senate refused to approve partial payments and the legislature agreed instead to have a study of the matter made with recommendations to the next session.

Pennsylvania today is foremost in the nation in the number of labor-management committees set up in war plants as a means of speeding production. Committees are now functioning in 92 war plants in accordance with a suggestion from war production chief Donald Nelson. New York was reported second with 59 committees. In all, 500 plants in 32 states have set up committees.

Egg-Laying Record Reported In State

Hen Lays Egg Daily For 76 Days, Department Of Agriculture Reports

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 24.—A hen in the official Pennsylvania egg-laying test has set a record of producing one egg daily for the past 76 days, the Department of Agriculture reported.

The bird, a barred Plymouth Rock pullet, produced 154 eggs during 196 days of the current test. The lay averages above the standard weight of 24 ounces per dozen. The record of this fowl is outstanding, the department pointed out, as hens very rarely produce eggs for more than 50 consecutive days.

Averaging 57.6 eggs per 100 layers, the April 1 production was indicative of the stepped-up program being exercised by the farmers in the "food for freedom" movement. This monthly average was exceeded only by the April 1 high of 57.9 in 1938.

Milk production, although only slightly greater than a year ago, was higher than ever before on the first day of the current month.

The Japanese beetle infested area in southeastern Pennsylvania, known as the general district, has been enlarged by a revision of the federal Japanese beetle quarantine.

Included in the area will be lower Mount Bethel, Allen and East Allen, Northampton county; North White Hall, Lehigh county; Heidelberg and Lower Heidelberg, Berks county; Upper Allen township, Lemoyne and Mechanicsburg, Cumberland county; and Manchester and Springersbury, York county.

The quarantined district, also extended by the revision, now includes Meadville in Crawford county, where numerous beetles were found during 1941.

All shipments of fruits, vegetables and cut flowers from the general district must be certified from June 15 to October 15, Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light warned.

MacArthur's Bombers Make New Attacks On Rabaul

Seek To Destroy Japanese Base

Enemy Barracks, Shipping, And Warehouses Under Heavy Atack

TAKING BIG TOLL OF JAPANESE PLANES

By LEE VAN ATTA
(International News Service)
Staff Correspondent

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS, in Australia, April 24.—American and Australian air forces, apparently bent on complete destruction of the Japanese air base at Rabaul, New Britain, have carried out another devastating bombardment against the former Australian port, it was announced in a communique today.

The United Nations fliers, operating under direction of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as supreme commander, again pounded enemy barracks, shipping and warehouses.

Japs Attempt Raids

The Japanese, apparently hoping to retaliate, attempted three new air raids against the United Nations advanced base at Port Moresby, New Guinea. Numerous efforts of the Japanese to interfere with United Nations operations there have been turned away successfully with resultant heavy losses to the enemy. Meanwhile it was learned that United Nations pilots were scoring large successes against the Japanese with fast American-made Kitty Hawk fighters.

At Least 50 Jap Planes Hit

At least 50 Japanese planes have been destroyed or seriously damaged in the New Guinea war theater since mid-March, it was estimated. The figure was obtained from reports received from advanced United Nations bases in the southwest Pacific zone.

The airdrome at Rabaul was machine-gunned by the United Nations fliers and incendiary bombs dropped on wharves in the harbor area.

Four Japanese Zero fighters attempted to intercept the attacking planes but were driven off.

The enemy attacks on Port Moresby had a "negligible" effect, Gen. MacArthur said in communique No. 4 from his headquarters.

To Open Employment Offices In Evenings

To Aid Men Who Registered In Recent Draft To Fill Questionnaires

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—William L. Dill, regional social security director, announced today that offices of the U. S. employment service in Pennsylvania, New Jersey and Delaware will be open evenings when necessary to help the 3 million men registered in last February's draft to fill out their occupational questionnaires.

Dill pointed out that mailing of questionnaires will be started by some Pennsylvania local boards on April 28. Reminding registrants that their employer, labor union or draft board will assist without charge in making out the forms, the director added:

"This information will make it possible for the government to determine the work every man is best qualified to do, whether in the army or in the plants producing war materials."

The first passenger boat built in France since the beginning of the present war was launched recently, according to the Department of Commerce.

Denver Families Periled By Flood

Estimated 15,000 Persons Warned To Evacuate Homes In "Lowlands"

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

DENVER, April 24 — Hundreds of Denver families huddled in public buildings and at the homes of friends today as the swollen Platte river raged at near-flood level after threatening most of the night to overflow its banks inside the Rocky Mountain west's largest city.

An estimated 15,000 persons had been warned by police to evacuate homes in the "lowlands" along the banks of the stream, but fears of a disastrous flood quieted when an expected high-water crest failed to develop this morning.

Business In This District Shows Increase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24 — Almost all lines of business in the Pittsburgh district reflected increases for the week ended April 11, the Bureau of Business Research, University of Pittsburgh, reported today.

The bureau's index of business stood at 147.8 of the 1923-25 average, compared with 146.2 for the preceding week. Electric power as well as bituminous coal showed increases while freight car loadings reached a new high level for the year.

The Republic of Panama is endeavoring to maintain the retail price of chickens at a maximum of $1.80, the Department of Commerce reports.

Training School Sessions Are Closed

The final session of the Leadership Training school that have been held for five nights on Tuesdays and Thursdays at First Baptist church came to a close last night with a lecture on the Gospel of John by Prof. John Orr, Ph. D., professor of Bible of Westminster college. The first lecture was delivered by Dr. R. F. Galbreath, president of Westminster college, and the last four by Dr. Orr.

Complete notes of the lectures were furnished and it was the consensus of opinion of the leaders and Sunday school teachers who attended that the course had been most helpful and enlightening. The first lecture dealt with the four gospels taken as a whole and the remaining four gospels were taken up in order at each session.

This Bible extension course or leadership training school was sponsored by the Lawrence County Sabbath School Association.

Men Are Needed For Construction Work By U. S. Navy

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 24 —Openings are now available for enlistment in the navy's new construction battalions known as the "Seabees," Gov. Arthur H. James disclosed today.

The Chief Executive said that the navy had advised him that enlistments will be accepted from draftsmen, mechanics, carpenters, electricians, power-plant operators, automotive repairmen and similar trades, for shore duty at naval bases outside the United States.

The age limits are from 17 to 50 the period of enlistment for the duration of the war and the salaries range from $36 to $99 a month including housing, food, clothing, medical care, etc.

Seeking To Halt Accident Rise

Rigid Inspection Of Motor Vehicles Is Ordered In Pennsylvania

By JOHN PAGET
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 24—The state revenue department and the Pennsylvania Motor Police joined today to assure rigid inspection of motor vehicles in an effort to halt the skyrocketing accident rate.

Witnout making the accident total public, Col. Lynn G. Adams of the state police said "the record of accident fatalities experienced thus far during the current year as compared with the same period last year indicates an increase of approximately 16 per cent."

The semi-annual inspection of automobiles and trucks opens May 1 and ends July 31. More than 2,200,000 automobiles are expected to pass through the state's 8,000 inspection stations which may refuse "stickers" to thousands of automobiles with unsafe tires or mechanical defects.

Walter G. Kress, acting revenue secretary asserted that wartime regulations have created more urgent need for rigid inspection of motor vehicles than ever before. He said:

"Rationing of automobiles and tires has necessitated prolonging the use of today's vehicles and as a result there is more danger of mechanical defects developing that might cause accidents resulting in loss of life and injury to many persons. For that reason inspection stations will be urged to be more thorough than ever before in their examinations of the vehicles that come under their scrutiny.

"There will be no modification or relaxing of the inspection rules and regulations. They must be rigidly enforced as an aid to safe driving and the protection of the public."

Kress pointed out that excessive speeds, "jackrabbit" stops and starts will damage tires and mechanisms that motorists may not be able to replace.

The new inspection stickers, bearing a picture of the Pennsylvania turnpike, will be mailed to garage owners Monday, Kress said.

"Governor James, months ago, urged Pennsylvania motorists to protect human lives and conserve vehicles and fuel by adopting the 40-mile speed limit," he said. "State-owned cars must now be operated within that speed.

"While the legal speed limit in Pennsylvania is 50 miles per hour, the patriotic limit is but 40 miles. Let every drvier adhere to that and there will be fewer lives lost on our highways and there will be more cars rolling for a longer period."

Adams said that speeding and the use of cars that were in poor mechanical condition were the chief reasons for the high fatality toll.

TRUCK HAULING OF SLAG TO NEW PLANT TO DECREASE

MERCER, April 24.—J. Harold Turner, Spencer avenue, president of Cambria Slag company, said today that by the first of next week trucking of slag from dumps in the Shenango Valley to the Keystone Ordnance Works in southern Crawford county will be cut to a minimum by use of additional facilities built at the plant by the Erie railroad. The 20 accidents on Mercer county highways in the past two weeks, including three fatalities, are under special investigation by Pennsylvania Motor police headquarters at Greensburg.

Vehicles in public health and security services are given first preference in the rationing of tires in Cuba, the Department of Commerce reports.

Grove City Man Served In Iceland

GROVE CITY, April 24.—First Grove City soldier of World War II to reach home from foreign service is Sgt. William L. Johnston, who arrived home yesterday from six months' service in Iceland. He is a son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Johnston, Superior street.

Sergeant Johnston has been transferred to Fort Benning, Ga. He says that the Icelandic winter was more mild than any he ever experienced in Western Pennsylvania, but that constant high winds and incessant rains made it uncomfortable.

Honey production in Canada has been in excess of 20 million pounds for each of the past 10 years, the Department of Commerce says.

Stock Exchange Urges Purchase Of War Bonds

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24 — For the second time in its 152 years of existence, the Philadelphia Stock Exchange today is advocating purchase of a security. By tradition and rules the exchange never recommends the purchase or sale of a security, but war makes a difference.

So today, as it did during the Liberty Loan drives of World War I, the exchange declares war bonds are "the greatest investment on earth."

Freighter Sunk By Shell Fire

(International News Service)

NORFOLK, Va., April 24.—The fifth naval district today announced that a medium sized American freighter was sunk by shell fire from an Axis submarine off the Atlantic coast last Thursday, with two dead and five missing from its 34 man crew.

Twenty-six survivors from the ill-fated vessel were picked up and brought safely to Norfolk Sunday afternoon.

To Transfer 2,100 Stamp-Bond Workers

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Harold D. Smith, director of the budget, today announced that 2,100 employes of the treasury's fiscal service of the war savings bonds and stamps organization will be transferred to Chicago, beginning June 1.

Smith also disclosed that about 1,900 workers will be added to the Chicago office within the next few months. The new offices will be located in the Merchandise Mart building, Chicago.

With but few exceptions, milk is produced in every county in the forty-eight states, the Department of Commerce reports.

HAULERS PROTEST PERMIT GRANT TO OHIO CONCERN

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Seven Pennsylvania hauling corporations plus the Pennsylvania railroad today protested against the issuance of a Pennsylvania certificate to the Youngstown Cartage company of Ohio, seeking to do business in western Pennsylvania.

In addition to the P. R. R. which opposes the granting of the license, the following companies entered protests:

Mooney Brothers, Keystone-Lawrence Storage & Transfer Co. and John M. Ferguson, all of New Castle; John Benkert & Sons, Moore-Flesher Hauling Co. and Ed Zurcher all of Pittsburgh, and H. E. Fox of Greensburg.

TWO SMALL FIRES

Firemen were called out twice Thursday for small fires, a grass blaze being reported on Wallace avenue at 2:21 o'clock, and at 3:45 o'clock fourth ward firemen were summoned to the old Lehigh Portland Cement plant, where workmen engaged in razing the plant caused a small fire with a blow torch.

Bar soap will keep for an indefinite period without deteriorating if the wrapper is removed when purchased, says the Department of Commerce.

REMODEL PERMITS

Building Andrew Pfahles was given two permits by the city to remodel. He will remodel a two story brick structure in White street at a cost of $500 and a dwelling at 930 Winslow avenue at a cost of $300.

The News By Mail, One Year, $6.00.

Output of merchant vessels in the United States has increased 70 percent since 1940, the Department of Commerce reports.

Poverty in raw materials is one of the outstanding aspects of Italian economy, according to the Department of Commerce.

Buy With Judgment Is Babson's Warning To People Of Nation

By ROGER W. BABSON
(Copyright—1942—Publishers Financial Bureau, Inc.)

BALTIMORE, Md., April 24.—I am astounded by the way people are pouring into big retail stores to buy goods. Thus far the sales in this city are 40 per cent ahead of the same period for last year. I surely urge readers to keep their heads. With the exception of metal, rubber and a few other goods, stocks of merchandise unsold are still above last year. When this crazy buying period is over, you may again see "Fire and Water" sales and general markdowns in order to move goods.

BABSON

War Will End Some Day

Another thing: When spending your money, spend it wisely. Buy things of permanent value. Your husband will not always bring home the fat envelope which he may now be getting from war work. Buy only for cash. Lay up money for the rainy days ahead which are bound to come. Use both "cents" and "sense" when buying.

There is one sure forecast: This is that the World War II will end some time. It may run on for years or it may all be over before 1943. Moreover, when it does end, the end will come suddenly at an unexpected moment. This means that some day we are to see very different conditions than exist today. Let us now reef our sails and prepare for storms.

How Businessmen Can Help U. S.

Businessmen ask me how they can help win the war and prepare for the peace that is to follow. There are many ways—including the developing of character and the building up of physical health. All can help in civic affairs, talk hopefully, trust those handling the war and be square-shooters.

But to merchants and other businessmen who read this column, let me say: As we are trusting Washington to manage the war, Washington is trusting us to manage business. This is our main job. Unless we attend to this, no one will do it. We must not be like the shoemaker whose children went barefooted.

Let's Ration Money

Men who have left their own work to serve the government are entitled to much credit. They are making real sacrifices. This includes those who are serving part time without any salary as rationers of tires and other things. Their work is a thankless task. It especially applies to the soldiers who are at the front or in training camps.

All of us, however, can help win the war by spending wisely and saving much. We do not need an appointment from Washington for this important work. By thrifty habits in our business and homes we are helping our boys at the front. But let us remember that it is not only tires, sugar and other commodities which need rationing. We should and must ration money.

Consider Bank Stocks

Those who owe money are not the only ones who should be thrifty. All of us should store up reserves in order to prepare for whatever may be ahead. This means buying defense bonds and putting your money in a bank. By the way, there are two ways of "putting your money in a bank".

One way to put your money in a bank is to "deposit" it subject to call; this gives you little or no interest. The other way is to buy the stock of the bank. Such stocks appear now to be selling at bargain prices. Consider the big New York City banks for instance: Chemical with book value of $40, selling about 32, yielding 5½ per cent; Bankers with book value of $44, selling about 33, yielding 4 1-4 per cent; Chase with book value of $33, selling about 22, yielding 6 1-3 per cent; Irving with a book value of $21, selling about 9, yielding 6⅔ per cent. My favorite is the Guaranty selling for $100 per share below its book value and yielding 6 per cent. When you buy some of these stocks it is much like buying U. S. government bonds at 60 cents on the dollar.

Read Your Bible

If you are afraid that New York City will be bombed, then put your money into a St. Louis or Kansas City bank. Better still buy the stock of your own local bank. Good bank stocks should give safe diversification, experienced management, and government supervision unequaled in any other investment.

Winning World War II will be a double-barrelled affair. As a nation, we must spend money and go into debt; but as individuals we should save money and get out of debt. Readers who take religion and their Bible seriously should obey all its teachings. One of its most important commands is "Owe no man anything" as ordered by St. Paul in his famous letter to the Romans and found in the eighth verse of the 13th chapter.

Liquor Licenses Are Suspended

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 24.—Revocation of one license and suspension of a series of others were announced today by the state liquor control board.

The board revoked the license of the East Pittsburgh Social club, East Pittsburgh, on grounds that it was not a bona fide club, and suspended the following:

John Walsh Walsh's restaurant, Scranton, 30 days, beginning April 28, for Sunday sales and permitting gambling; Theresa Hurney, Throop, 20 days, beginning April 28, for Sunday sales; John G. Lucas, Pittsburgh Inn, Erie, 15 days, beginning April 29, permitting gambling; Slovak American Citizens club, McKees Rocks, 40 days, beginning April 29, for sales to non-members; Workingmen's Beneficial union, founding district of McKees Rocks, 30 days, beginning April 29, sales to non-members and permitting gambling.

Biddle says we should carry on liberal reforms "regardless of the war." Of course—if they are more important.

Three New Castle Girls Have Roles In College Play

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 24.—Three New Castle girls will have parts in the play, "Ladies in Retirement" which will be presented in the Little Theater of Westminster College here on April 28, 29, 30, and May 1. They are Miss Helene Edgar, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Edgar, Sheridan avenue; Miss Maxine Gilliland, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Gilliland, 1005 Delaware avenue, and Miss Gladys Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Brown, 811 North Mercer street.

Proceeds of the Little Theater play, "Ladies in Retirement" will be turned over to the Navy Relief Fund which is raising money to care for families of men killed at Pearl Harbor, according to Dr. A. T. Cordray, director of the Little Theater.

Some Good News On Production

(International News Service)

MORE PLANES—Dollar production of planes, engines and propellors last year was three and one-fifth times that of 1940, according to Col. John H. Jouett, president of the Aeronautical Chamber of Commerce. He expects it to triple again in 1942.

MORE HONORS—Carnegie-Illinois Steel corporation at Pittsburgh has received the navy "E."

MORE METALS—Westinghouse light bulbs will contain less brass, nickel and tin in the future in order to conserve those materials for war goods.

MORE FACILITIES—Newark airport and 306 acres of the port of Newark have been leased by the army.

Mothers Day At College Saturday

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, April 24.—A chapel service at 11 a. m. will be the first feature of the annual mother's day program at Westminster college here Saturday, April 25. About 500 mothers of students are expected to be on campus that day.

Mrs. James McLaughry of New Wilmington and Mrs. H. Ray Shear of Pittsburgh will talk to students at the chapel service. After luncheons serviced at fraternity and sorority houses the mothers will be entertained at an athletic exhibition and a tea in the afternoon.

The evening's entertainment will consist of a play, "Evening Dress Indispensable" by by the Westminster players, and music by the A Cappella choir, the women's glee club, and the string quartet.

HEAVYWEIGHT CADETS
(International News Service)

LUBBOCK, Tex.—The Army needn't worry about finding men big enough to fly its heavyweight bombers and transport planes. If aviation cadets at the Lubbock Army Flying school here are typical, it's got them.

Statistically speaking at least, the average cadet at this large Air Corps twin-engine school is quite a guy. Twenty-three years old, he is 5 feet 11 inches tall, weighs slightly more than 160 pounds and wears size 10C shoes.

Home-Made Treatment In Infantile Paralysis Cases Getting Results

By DARRELL GARWOOD
International News Service
Staff Correspondent

CHICAGO, April 24—The American Medical Association, which was cautious at first, now calls for full speed ahead in the use of a home-made treatment which promises to prevent most of the deformities resulting from infantile paralysis.

The AMA'S official journal Guide-Book of Medicine throughout the country, gave prominence to two articles lauding the simple methods developed by Miss Elizabeth Kenny in backwoods Australia, far from the halls of recognized science, to combat the world's worst scourge of children.

Miss Kenny, past 50, came to America two years ago in an effort to convince skeptical physicians that her hand methods of treating poliomyelitis — infantile paralysis —were better than the fancy serums for which research experts ransacked every corner of the earth.

The position taken by the medical association today represented a complete triumph for Miss Kenny's American project. The journal stated in a forward to an article by Dr. John F. Pohl of Minneapolis that paralysis deformities had been "outlawed" by Miss Kenny.

"Her methods should be immediately adopted as the fundamental treatment of the disease (infantile paralysis)," Dr. Pohl stated. "The tremendous and far-reaching advantages of her methods make it imperative that the work of Miss Kenny be made generally known to the physicians of America as quickly as possible."

Miss Kenny's treatment, simplicity itself, consists of hot packs and what is called "passive exercise," often mistaken for massage but in reality the exercising of an affected muscle for the paient, while he remains relaxed. She uses no braces, splints or casts.

For the last 18 months, she has been demonstrating the effectiveness of her treatment on 26 patients under her care at Minneapolis General hospital. The 26 patients were in the acute and subacute stage of the disease when given over to her care, but Dr. Pohl reported without qualification:

"It can now be stated these patients have all made a far more satisfactory recovery than they would have made by any previously known method. No deformities have occurred, in spite of the complete omission of splinting."

Although just now getting the full recognition of a slow-moving medical world, led down many blind alleys in its search for cures, the treatment, to Miss Kenny, is far from new. A trained nurse but without a medical degree, she worked it out more than 30 years ago in Australia.

There wasn't a doctor within 100 miles of where she lived, and she began treating victims of Polio because doctors couldn't be reached. Her theories about the disease proved better than those in books—an apparently paralyzed muscle, she found, has often just been "forgotten" by the brain—and her work came to the attention of the Australian government.

New Jersey Gas Retailers Oppose Rationing Plans

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., April 24 — The New Jersey gasoline retailer's association today opposed consumer rationing of motor fuel and contended that the rationing should be handled by the dealers.

John Dressler, president of the association, said the chief argument against consumer rationing was that the ration books would result in much counterfeiting.

Rationing of existing stocks of rubber in Argentenia has just been ordered by the Government, the Department of Commerce reports.

CASES FILED

In the office of Prothonotary and Clerk of Courts John A. Edgar the following cases have been listed for trial.

Federal Land Bank of Baltimore, Md., files a suit against Edward C. Cotton and Stella Cotton, his wife, mortgagors and Richard R. Grim terre tenant to sceure payment of $2062.13 allegedly due on a mortgage.

Laura Maxine Christie, of Pittsburgh asks a divorce from Robert Edward Christie of Ellwood City. They were married July 21, 1941. Indignities to person are charged.

Petro Petrillo, Kate O'Brien and Grandey Petrilla file an amicable ejectment against Caleb Green and Leota B. Green.

An agremeent has been reached in the case of John Kingston, administrator in the estate of George Upperman, versus James R. Lusher. The settlement calls for the payment by the defendant of $352.75 for funeral expenses of the deceased Upperman. The case arose out of an accident on January 11, 1942, in Ellwood City when Upperman was struck by the car of Lusher and killed.

Travel Allowances Funds To Be Cut

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The senate appropriations committee Thursday voted to sharply reduce funds of the office of government reports, headed by Lowell Mellett, and to cut travel allowances of many government agencies 10 to 20 percent.

The action was taken in considerating the $2,000,000,000 house-approved independent office appropriation bill.

Members said that the fund for Mellett's office was cut $400,000 to a total of approximately $4,700,000. In addition, a proviso was added limiting President Roosevelt's authority to allocate funds to the Mellett agency from White House funds to $600,000.

Sen. McKellar (D) Tenn., led a fight in the committee to cut expenditures of such agencies as the federal trade commission, securities and exchange commission, civil service commission, federal loan agency and federal housing administration by reducing travel expense allowances.

WAS DEAFened NOW HEARS CLOCK TICK

A. M. Beetchenon, Newark, N. J., writes: "Before using Orotune Ear Drops, I was so deafened that I could not hear the clock tick. After using Orotune, I can now hear the clock tick with both ears." Thousands now hard-of-hearing would hear clearly and distinctly again, and also get relief from buzzing, ringing head noises, clogged up feeling in ears, if impacted wax that blocks ear canals and presses on sensitive eardrums was removed. Try Orotune Ear Drops as directed for this purpose. They are safe and contain an ingredient recommended by United States Public Health Service.

Maybe your chances of buying a new car are better than you think

Here's clarifying information about the rules on the purchase of new automobiles—and how you can get one if you are eligible.

MORE people are entitled to buy new automobiles under Government rationing regulations than may have been generally realized.

Indeed, if you are eligible to buy a new car, and continue to drive an old and inefficient model, you may actually burn up more gasoline, consume more oil and wear out tires faster than is desirable in the interest of conservation of critical materials and supplies.

The principal groups eligible for the purchase of new cars are as follows:

1. Physicians, surgeons, visiting nurses, veterinarians and regularly practicing ministers of a religious faith, when their cars are used for professional purposes.
2. Persons engaged in fire-fighting services, police services, public health services, mail services or highway construction and maintenance of equipment when cars are used in direct line of duty.
3. Persons furnishing transportation to the public, when the purchase is required in the interest of public safety and convenience.
4. Persons engaged in the prosecution of the war, directly or indirectly, including executives, engineers, technicians and workers. Such cars must be used in transportation to or from or within factories, power plants, transportation or communication facilities, farms, lumber camps, mines, military or naval establishments, when the work done in such place of employment is essential, directly or indirectly, to the prosecution of the war.
5. Persons transporting produce and supplies to and from a farm when applicant does not own or possess a truck or other practicable means of transportation.
6. Traveling salesmen, when the car is required in selling foods and medical supplies or machinery and equipment to farms, factories, mines, oil wells, lumber camps or similar productive establishments.
7. Persons delivering newspapers, when the car is required for wholesale delivery.

The first step in getting a car is to fill out the proper application form, which we will be glad to obtain for you.

It is then necessary only to demonstrate to the local rationing board that your need for a car is bona fide to get a "certificate of purchase" entitling you to immediate delivery on the model of your own selection.

If you have any questions about your eligibility after reading the above list, we will be glad to answer them for you to the best of our ability.

If you're eligible...let us help you

SHENANGO GROUP MEETS THURSDAY

Spring Meeting Of Presbyterial In Ellwood City First Presbyterian Church

Interesting accounts of their work were given by Dr. A. Raymond Kepler, who has spent 41 years in China, and Dr. Raul P. Guitart, principal of the Kate Plumber Bryan Memorial school in Guines, Cuba, at the annual spring meeting of Shenango Presbyterial held Thursday in the First Presbyterian church of Ellwood City.

All officers of Presbyterial were re-elected for two years at this meeting with Mrs. Moon of Sharpsville being newly elected to the post of vice president of the Sharon district.

Other features of the morning session, at which Mrs. J. Wylie Brewster presided, were the executive meeting and registration, a worship service with Mrs. R. L. James of West Middlesex in charge, greetings from Mrs. Ellis Bell of Ellwood City, the reading of minutes of the previous meeting, appointment of committees and reports of Presbyterial officers. Greetings from the national board were given by Dr. Guitart, a native Cuban, with Dr. Kepler bringing greetings from the foreign board.

Luncheon was served in the church at noon.

Mrs. Brewster also presided over the afternoon session which opened with a program of organ music by Mrs. Charles G. Relph of Ellwood City. Mrs. Thomas G. Berger of Slippery Rock church led the worship service which was followed by roll call, the treasurer's report by Mrs. F. R. Woods and the offering.

Following a solo by Mrs. Robert Thompson of Ellwood City, addresses were given by Dr. Guitart and Dr. Kepler. Reports of committees and the installation of officers, with Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine of New Castle in charge, followed.

Chester Wilson of Ellwood City presided at the Young People's dinner at 6:30 o'clock with the invocation being given by Rev. Homer K. Miller of the Volant-Rich Hill churches. Rev. A. M. Stevenson of Ellwood City had charge of the dinner music and there was a short talk by Dr. Kepler during the dinner hour.

Rev. E. A. Shoemaker of Westfield church had charge of the installation of Young People's League officers.

The evening session opened with a program of organ music by Miss Marjory Streeter and was presided over by Mrs. Clifford M. Propst, secretary of Senior Young People. The Mahoningtown Young People had charge and presented an impressive candlelight service.

Miss Eva Miller of New Castle First church had charge of the "Summer Conference" with five girls from her church presenting a playlet, entitled "Conference Confab." A vocal solo by Miss Martha L. Diehl of Sharon followed, with Miss Sally Skyrm as Miss Diehl's accompanist.

The principal address of the evening was delivered by Dr. Guitart on the subject, "The Mission's School as a Force in Cuban Life." Prayer was offered by Rev. Stewart Harro of West Middlesex and the benediction was pronounced by Rev. A. M. Stevenson of Ellwood City.

Huge Estate Is Left To President

Bequeathed Bulk Of Estate Left By His Mother, It Is Revealed

(International News Service)

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., April 24.—President Roosevelt was bequeathed the bulk of a $1,089,872 estate left by his mother, Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt, a state transfer tax appraisal showed today.

Mrs. Roosevelt, who died at her Hyde Park home last September, left the president the bulk of the estate after stipulating that trust funds in equal amounts be set up from one-tenth of the estate for her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, and her five grandchildren.

St. James church in Hyde Park and the three executors, the president, Arthur Morris and Henry T. Hackett, were each left $5,000.

Mrs. Anna R. Boettiger of Seattle, Wash., Captain James Roosevelt of the United States marines and Captain Elliot Roosevelt of the United Staes air corps, will receive the amount of their trust funds outright as the will specifies the distribution of the funds to those over 30 years of age.

The other two children sharing in the estate are both in the navy, Lieutenant Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., 27, and Ensign John Roosevelt, 25.

Major assets of the estate were securities valued at $939,993, which included stocks and bonds in 100 important corporations.

Seven Arrested In $2,500 Tire Theft

Tip By Suspicious Motorists Today Leads To Arrest In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Pittsburgh police today held seven men arrested in connection with the theft of more than $2,500 worth of new and re-capped tires.

Those held are Arthur Wiesnewski, 19; Anthony Priore, 21, and John Franz, 17, all charged with larceny; Leon Kalson, 28, and John Cazenave, 23, charged with receiving stolen goods; Harry Rappaport, 43, and Sol Silverman, 51, charged with accessory before and after the fact. All live in Pittsburgh.

Police were tipped off by suspicious motorists who reported seeing a large blanket-draped truck. Tracing the vehicle, authorities found the tires, believed stolen from both Donora and Pittsburgh tire shops. Wiesnewski and his two companions allegedly confessed the theft and involved the others.

Schoolboys To Be Asked To Aid In Farm Problem

Survey Will Be Made Of Help Available In City And County Schools

At a meeting of the Lawrence County USDA War board, held Thursday in the offices of the Lawrence County Agricultural Conservation association, which was attended by city and county school officials, and the county agents of Lawrence and Mercer counties, it was decided to make a survey of the city and county school systems to determine what help is available for farm work this summer.

Lawrence county farmers are beginning to feel the farm labor shortage, due primarily to the high wages that industry is paying in the Mahoning and Shenango Valley steel area, which has deprived them of much of the help they ordinarily obtain.

A survey has already been conducted by the WPA of those who have had farm experience, and together with the help available through the schools, it is hoped that the situation in Lawrence county will be somewhat relieved.

Farmers who are in need of farm help, either seasonal or permanent, are asked to contact the U. S. Employment office, located at 134½ East Washington street, or the Agricultural Conservation office in the Court House Annex.

The success of the movement depends largely on the cooperation given by those interested, Dorris L. Fulkman, chairman of the conservation board of the AAA stated. The group will meet again in two weeks and it is hoped that farmers who are in need of aid will make their wants known to either of the above agencies prior to this time.

Those in attendance at yesterday's meeting were: The USDA war board, composed of Dorris L. Fulkman of the AAA; Harry McCurley, of the F.C.A., and Charles L. Brenneman of the F.S.A., together with Mrs. Priscaro of the U. S. Employment service; Mr. Bailey of the WPA, John C. Syling, county superintendent of schools; Dr. C. C. Green, superintendent of the city schools; Emmett Gillaspie of Ben Franklin Junior High; H. R. McCulloch, county agent, and M. B. Orr of the Mercer County Agricultural Conservation office.

Southern Colorado Has Worst Flood In Past 38 Years

(International News Service)

TRINIDAD, Colo., April 24 — A five-year-old boy and an elderly rancher were dead today in the wake of the worst flood to strike this southern Colorado area in 38 years.

Two rivers, the Purgatoire and the Apishapa, overflowed their banks. Interstate railroad service was disrupted and 50 business and residential blocks in Trinidad were under water. Several crosstown bridges were washed out.

As the two rivers subsided today, officials announced the death of 65-year-old Cicero Reeves, a rancher residing 16 miles west of Trinidad, who was swept off his horse while attempting to ford the Purgatoire.

Jack Stoner, five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Stoner, drowned when he fell into a flooded irrigation ditch on the Stoner ranch 13 miles east of the city.

Public vehicles in Panama are not permitted to operate after 11 o'clock p. m. without special permit and then only on specified routes, the Department of Commerce reports.

Army Training Plane Is Overdue

(International News Service)

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M., April 24 —A four-motored army training plane long overdue at the Albuquerque air base with a cerw of seven fliers was feared down today in the White Lake region 60 miles east of Albuquerque.

The huge craft was heard from last shortly after 8 p. m. Wednesday while over Las Vegas, N. M. It was en route to Albuquerque from Kansis City.

First reports had indicated eight men were aboard, but army officials listed only seven names which included second Lieut. Charles D. Reynard, Jr., of Ohio.

Non-resident tourists entering Canada are required to obtain a gasoline license and ration coupon book, according to the Department of Commerce.

Miss Mary Marsic To Serve As U. S. Nurse

Anesthetist At New Castle Hospital Leaves May 15 Army Reserve Nurse

Miss Mary Marsic, anesthetist at the New Castle hospital, where she received her training as a nurse, graduating with the class of 1927, leaves here on May 15 to assume new duties at Fort Eustic, Va., as an Army Reserve anesthetist.

Miss Marsic received her notice from Baltimore, Md., headquarters, of her new position for active duty.

Jobless Pay Bill Boost Approved

Governor Signs Measure Passed At Recent Session —Other Action By James

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 24—Millions of dollars additional in unemployment compensation benefits will flow to jobless workers in Pennsylvania beginning July 1 as a result of the signing by Gov. Arthur H. James of a new jobless insurance bill enacted by the recent special session of the General Assembly.

Some estimates were that as much as 20 to 25 million dollars additional would be paid from the state's $232,000,000 unemployment compensation fund as a result of the enactment and approval by the governor of legislation liberalizing the present law.

Marking the first substantial change in benefits since 1936, when a system of unemployment compensation was established in Pennsylvania, payments to jobless workers will be raised from $7.50 to $15 a week to $8 to $18 weekly.

Other Action By James

Other action taken by Governor James on special session legislation included:

1. Reduced by $30,300 the $150,340 supplemental appropriation bill for special session expenses, bringing it down to $120,040 and reducing the overall cost of the session from $397,188 to $366,888. The governor had previously approved an initial appropriation for $246,848.

2. Approved a bill authorizing the use of 1942 motor vehicle license plates next year by the attachment of a small metal tag.

3. Approved a measure authorizing the state to construct, repair or replace with federal, county or city funds bridges in third class cities connecting defense-important highways.

4. Vetoed a bill permitting the use of only one license plate on motor vehicles on the ground it was defective.

5. Vetoed a measure permitting persons on relief to earn up to $15 a month or $150 a year on defense work without disqualifying themselves as general assistance recipients. The bill's purpose can be accomplished under existing law, said the governor.

Boak At Wheat Growers Meeting

Reports Protest In Nation On Wheat Growing Quota Penalty

J. Audley Boak, president of the Pennsylvania Wheat Growers Association, has returned from Indianapolis, Ind., where he attended a meeting of the National Wheat Growers Association, which is protesting against the wheat quota penalty.

The delegates representing states from New York to Oklahoma were encouraged by their victory in a suit, tried in district court at Dayton, O., in which, states Mr. Boak, the court ruled that the law providing for a 49 cents penalty on (so called) surplus wheat is unconstitution.

The Wheat Growers Association is now looking forward expecting to be successful in supreme court next month.

Mr. Boak says that of the 81,000 Pennsylvania farmers who grow wheat, less than 1 per cent failed to comply with the marketing quota regulations of AAA, the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, which directs the secretary of agriculture to proclaim a wheat marketing quota by May 15.

He states there are 2300 farms in Lawrence county, but only 24 farmers were permitted to vote in the referendum on May 2, as it is necessary to grow 15 acres of wheat or more than 200 bushels to entitle a vote.

In 1941, Pennsylvania harvested 867,000 acres of wheat, with average yield of 19.5 bushels per acre, with a total crop of 16,897,000 bushels. The average price per bushel for the season was $1.06.

Tea was rationed in Ireland recently at the rate of one-half ounce per person per week, according to the Department of Commerce.

Opportunity is knocking at the door of the handicapped.

There is an increasing demand for all types of workers.

Industrial companies are experimenting with handicapped employees.

Sixty-eight industrial concerns report on handicapped workers.

One-third of these companies employ illiterates.

One-fourth employ ex-convicts and those with physical defects.

One company has about 18,000 physically defective men at work.

Those with defective hearing are often superior for inspection work.

Six million adults in the United States are handicapped.

These include illiterates, physical defectives and ex-criminals.

Practically all can be put to gainful employment.

Careful selection and placement prove uniformly beneficial.

Fishermen Make Fortune Because Of Vitamins

By MARGO BROWNE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The government revealed today that war brought movie star earnings of $1,000 a week to some fishermen as it gave the American public an A-B-C lesson in vitamins with the statement that "the vitamins—in pill and pellet, bottle and capsule—are working for victory."

Shortages of vitamin A—caused when cod liver oil deliveries from Norway and Japan were cut off by the war—proved such a "gold mine" to fishermen that college boys left their books and farmers left their plows to fish.

And it's no fish story, according to the office of emergency management, which made the disclosure. The O.E.M. explained:

"The shortage of vitamin A turned out to be a gold mine for fishermen of California, Oregon and Washington after they discovered the merit of soup-fin shark. For years, they had tossed it overboard as a nuisance of no chemical value except for the fins, considered a delicacy by the Chinese.

"Then it was found that the huge liver of the soup-fin shark was more than 50 percent oil and that the oil had a higher vitamin A potency than that of almost any other fish—30 times that of the cod, for example.

"Thousands of fishermen abandoned their usual catches to go after sharks in competition with farmers and college boys. The price of whole sharks jumped from $40 a ton to $800 to $1,500 a ton and the price of livers rose from $6 to $9 a pound. Individual earnings reached as much as $1,000 for a trip lasting no more than a week!"

The statement also told of the use of vitamins B1, C, D, E, and G in war work. Vitamin A, it was declared, is needed to sharpen the eyes of pilots for night flights. Large amounts have been sent to Royal Air Force flyers in England, and also to aid undernourished British children.

Since the lend-lease act was enacted in April 1941, it was reported, this country has shipped to its allies 90,563 pounds of vitamin A; 4,710 pounds of vitamin C, 2,886 pounds of vitamin B1, and 248,865 gallons of orange and lemon juice concentrates which contain vitamin C. Some of the vitamins are being shipped abroad on long range bombers being flown to various fighting fronts by the army ferry command.

Officials estimated that 25,000 billion units of vitamin A were manufactured in 1940 from the shark catch. The O.E.M. statement explained how the various vitamins helped build health, saying that "these obscure substances fight night and day against the forces of exhaustion and disease."

NEW YORK—An airplane detector built by students of Andrew Jackson high school for classroom use is going to be employed in actual air raid warning work.

Constructed by boys of the school's electrical service squad, the detector easily picks up ordinary conversations on the street below. Placed atop the building, it can "hear" an airplane motor fifteen miles away.

WHEATLAND MAN DIES SUDDENLY

Word has been received here of the death of William John Jones, 55, of Wheatland, who died suddenly Wednesday evening.

Funeral services for Mr. Jones, known in this city, will be held from the home, 36 Hamilton avenue, Wheatland, Sunday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be in Hillcrest Memorial Park, Sharon.

Friends may call at the home after noon on Saturday.

SUSPEND LICENSE

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 24.—The state liquor control board today reported the 10-day suspension, effective April 20, of the retail license of George W. Hays, Glassport, on a series of charges including Sunday sales.

Average Motorist Can't Get Along On Ten Gallons Of Gas Weekly, Normally

By RAYMOND WILCOVE
(U. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

HARRISBURG, April 24.—Planning a motor trip to the Poconos in June? Thinking of running down to Pittsburgh to visit your in-laws? Taking your family out for a ride on Sundays as you always did before Pearl Harbor?

Richard B. Maxwell, secretary-manager of the Pennsylvania Motor Federation, largest state organization of motorists in the world, predicted today that if motorists are limited to from two and one-half to five gallons of gasoline a week they'll be lucky if they can get around their home town in their cars.

"We happen to be located in a highly-industrialized defense area," he explained. "The gasoline that is being made available to Pennsylvania is needed in our war plants."

Now if we lived in Iowa, or Nebraska, or Utah, things would be different. But we don't. "We live in the 'Arsenal of America,'" pointed out Maxwell, "and that arsenal must be kept going full blast."

Maxwell doesn't think the average motorist can get along on less than 10 gallons a week, without a sharp curtailment of the use of his car. "About 10 gallons of gasoline a week would enable motorists to carry on normal activities," he said. In fact, he added, if they went easy on their supply, walked to work or took the bus and cut out the joy-riding, they might be able to put enough aside so as to be able to make a 300 to 400-mile trip—every three weeks or so.

But not on two and one-half to five gallons a week. "I don't think the motorist can get along on such a low amount without curtailment of the use of his car," he said.

Following his return from Washington, where he attended a conference of representatives of the American Automobile Association, producers, the petroleum industry and the government, Maxwell expressed the opinion that the gasoline allotment to motorists would be increased.

He pointed out that gasoline rationing was not slated to go into effect until May 15 and that the amount to be allocated to motorists had not yet been officially set by the office of price administration.

"Until May 15 comes and they definitely determine what the limit shall be, I can't believe they will limit it to such a low amount," said the motor federation official.

"I think," he added, "that the government has given us the very worst picture it can, and rightly so. They don't want to tell the motorist he'll be able to get 20 gallons a week and then have to cut it down to 10. They'd rather start at the bottom and if the situation permits increase the allowance."

"I think the picture will brighten before actual gasoline rationing goes into effect," Maxwell predicted.

Future Farmers Have Convention

Annual District Meeting At Slippery Rock Will Close This Evening

Future Farmers from the mid-western section of Western Pennsylvania are in conference today in Slippery Rock, where the fifth annual convention of these farm youths is taking place in the State Teachers College.

The convention opened Thursday afternoon, with registration at 1:30 o'clock, followed by a leadership training conference attended by fifty four leaders from the district, with E. C. Wiggins, of this city Vocational Supervisor for the district in charge.

The convention will lead up to the state meeting later in the spring, winners of various contests being staged today being selected to represent the district. This is in addition to contests which have already taken place in various types of livestock judging.

Contests held this morning included: corn judging, insects and diseases, feed identification, potato judging, and farm shop.

There will be various recreational diversions this afternoon, followed by the annual banquet at 6:30 and an evening program at 8 o'clock in the college chapel, when Judge John G. Lamoree, of this city, will be the principal speaker.

The programs for this evening are as follows:

Banquet

"Bank Night" Ruled Illegal In New Jersey

(International News Service)

TRENTON, N. J., April 24—Bank Night, the modernized version of bingo, was declared illegal in New Jersey motion picture theatres today following a ruling by the court of errors and appeals, highest tribunal in the state.

Upholding a decision by Circuit Court Judge William A. Smith, the court of errors and appeals dismissed a suit against the A. & G. amusement company, operator of the Majestic Theatre in Paterson.

Judge Smith ruled that the plaintiff, William Furst, Newark, could receive no royalty payments to the use of "bank night" as it was a lottery and a contract based upon it was illegal.

WOMEN CAN WEAR SLACKS TO WORK IN COAST PLANT
(International News Service)

SACRAMENTO, Cal., April 24 — It's okeh for women employes in the California state department of public works to wear slacks at work, officials said today. Permission was given on the argument of the women that this would help conserve silk stockings.

Women employes of the state motor vehicle department previously were given permission to wear slacks "for the duration."

A nation organized for hard work and maximum production will inevitably defeat a nation of workers organized to limit production.

SUSPECTS IN SEDITION WILL BE ARRESTED

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 24 — United States Attorney J. Albert Woll on Thursday went before the Federal grand jury to open a sweeping investigation of seditious persons and groups operating throughout the nation.

Subpoenas for six individuals who will be called before the April grand jury to begin the investigation were placed in the hands of the U. S. Marshal for Service.

Prosecutor Woll launched the inquiry into the recent activities of individuals and groups suspected of undermining the nation's war effort immediately after getting the go-head signal from the Attorney General's Office in Washington.

A mass of evidence gathered by the Federal Bureau of Investigation in the past six months and bearing on the efforts of enemy agents and Axis sympathizers to spread defeatism has been accumulated, Woll said.

There is no evidence of organized sabotage, he added, but there has been a clear indication that the Middle West is a center of seditious activity.

Although declining to be quoted, U. S. Attorney Woll said there was no doubt but what morale in the Middle West has been affected by the "Voices of Defeat," seditious publications and rabble - rousing talks by Nazi sympathizers and anti-war organizations.

Woll declined to reveal the names of any of those summoned to testify today or for whom additional subpoenas will be issued as the investigation rolls forward.

Originator Of Christmas Seals Will Be Honored

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24 — Miss Emily P. Bissel, originator of the annual Christmas Seal Drive for financing tuberculosis work in the United States will be feted in Philadelphia May 3 by the Christmas Seal and Charity Stamp Society.

In connection with the luncheon will be an exhibit of 70 frames of rare material drawn from some of the finest collections in the country. Early American U. S. revenue medicine stamps and an exhibit of "sanitary fair" issues, however, will be the only material included not strictly confined to the tuberculosis Christmas Seal classification.

A frame of "famous Firsts" will contain original sheets of the 1907 Denmark and 1907 type I U. S. seals and autographed photographs of Einar Holboell, who originated the idea of using Christmas Seals to combat tuberculosis in Denmark.

Also on exhibit will be the 1904 cover Jacob Riis received from Denmark which prompted him to write an article in the July 6, 1907 issue of Outlook. Miss Bissel read this article and the 1907 Christmas Seals —the first in this country—came into being.

The occasion marks the 50th anniversary of the Pennsylvania tuberculosis society, the first state organization of its kind in the country.

Clothing prices in Switzerland are about 70 percent above the pre-war level, according to the Department of Commerce.

Held Under $50,000 Bail For Hearing

(International News Service)

LANCASTER, Pa., April 24.—Unable to raise $50,000 bail, Joseph J. Schmitz, 69, former well-to-do mattress manufacturer, awaited a hearing May 4 on sedition charges growing out of complaints that he had threatened the lives of President Roosevelt and other government officials.

Schmitz, a native of Fon Du Lac, Wis., and resident of New York and Chicago before settling in Lancaster many years ago, was arraigned before Alderman J. Edward Wetzel as result of an investigation by the U. S. Secret Service and a search of his home.

The elderly suspect wrote threatening letters to the president and other government leaders on January 15, 1941, and January 21, 1942, according to the complaint signed by State Motor Police Corp. Harry E. Fitzgerald.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Society Group Party Saturday

All final plans were made at the Thursday evening committee meeting of the Sons and Daughters of St. Margaret's society for their husbands and wives party to be held Saturday evening.

The gathering will be in St. Margaret's hall, North Liberty street, social hour to start at 7:30 o'clock.

According to the general chairman, Mrs. Florence Domenick, a large crowd is expected to attend. A delicious dinner will be served followed by an Italian dance, which will also feature a victory march. Assisting Mrs. Domenick is Mrs. Rose Zarilla, food chairman, and other aides.

G. I. A. OF B. OF L. E. HAVE TUREEN DINNER

Members of the Grand International Auxiliary of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers met Thursday, at noon, and enjoyed a splendid tureen dinner, in the green room of the Y. W. C. A.

During the business session, a class of candidates were initiated into membership.

The next regular meeting will be Thursday afternoon, May 1, at 1:30, at the Y.W.C.A. There will be a social time, and the committee of arrangements will be appointed later.

The organization has been invited to attend a union circuit meeting of the G.I.A. of B. of L. E., in Pittsburgh, on May 12, in the Century Bldg., Seventh Avenue.

G. W. SEWING CIRCLE AT MARTONE HOME

Mrs. A. Martone, opened her home, on West Cherry street, Thursday afternoon to members of the G. W. Sewing Circle.

Crocheting and sewing were pastimes for the group, and following the hostess served a dainty lunch on a nicely arranged table. Mrs. Mike Zumpella assisted in serving.

Thursday afternoon, April 30, members will meet with Mrs. Louis Juliano, of Montgomery avenue.

CHURCH SODALITY PLANNING BANQUET

At the special meeting of the Immaculate Conception Sodality of St. Lucy's church, further plans were discussed for the mothers and daughters banquet to be held on May 11, in the church basement. Officers will be in charge of the event, which has been changed from May 10.

On May 25, the Sodality will have their spring dance, committees of which will be announced later.

President, Flossie Masone was in charge, and the meeting was adjourned until May 6.

DAVIS BIBLE CLASS MEETS ON THURSDAY

At the Mahoning Methodist church, the Davis Bible class met on Thursday evening, at 6, for a tureen dinner, in the dining room.

Shuffleboard and other games were played, and there was a social time.

Mrs. John Phillips, Mrs. Robert Ricker, Mrs. Lewis Blasdell, were the committee in charge of arrangements.

MUSHBALL GAME PLAYED BY GROUP

B. & O. boilermakers and machinists played their first mushball game Thursday evening at the West Clayton street ball field, and a good attendance was noted.

The season is now underway, and the first score was: boilermakers 33, machinists 2. Other games are scheduled to be played in the near future.

BOY SCOUT TROOP 4

At Mahoning school, Thursday evening, Boy Scouts Troop 4, met. Scoutmaster William Weitz, Sr., was in charge.

As April 23 was International Boy Scout Day, Troop 4 observed this with a one minute period of silence, in honor of other boy scouts who have lost their lives in the war.

The "Cubs" also met at the same place. The parents of the Cubs are asked to attend the next meeting, if interested, if not, there will be no Cub pack organized.

The scouts and cubs will meet on Friday next at Mahoning school.

"LAKE" BEING DRAINED

Much of the water from the "lake" that had formed on the field below the Simpson Methodist church, on North Liberty street, has disappeared. A ditch has been dug from the body of water to Mahoning avenue, for its drainage, and recovery for grazing land.

PLUM, PEAR BLOSSOMS

Many blossoms are appearing on three trees in the yard of a home on Liberty street, near Darlington avenue. Two of the trees are plum, and the other, a pear tree, with the surrounding ground quite bare.

RECOVERING NICELY

Pearl Masone, of 211 West Wabash avenue, is getting along nicely. She was injured severely, suffering bone fractures, when struck by an automobile, several months ago. The cast was taken off a few days ago.

SEVENTH WARD PERSONALS

Albert Conti, of Wabash avenue, is visiting in Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Amelia Canale, of Rochester, Pa., is visiting with her mother, Mrs. Jennie Rouzzo, of Wayne street.

Mrs. C. E. Bell, of West Madison avenue, who has been confined to her home with illness, is somewhat improved.

Mrs. James Green, of Niles, Ohio, have returned, after visiting with Mr. and Mrs. William Russo, of West Cherry street.

Mrs. Jean Kennedy and infant, have returned to their home at 208 North Liberty street, from the New Castle Hospital.

Chester Blake, of R. D. 7, Mahoningtown, has recovered sufficiently to return to his home, from the New Castle Hospital.

James Alleifritz, and Harry Dallison, of Wheeling, West Va., are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Sam Domenick, of Wayne street.

Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Thompson, of West Madison avenue, have returned, after visiting for a week with their daughter, Mrs. A. P. Gealy and family, of Elizabeth, New Jersey.

Dairymen Move To Balk Program Of John L. Lewis

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, April 24— Pennsylvania's farm and milk cooperatives banded together today to balk the attempt of John L. Leiws, president of the United Mine Workers of America, to unionize the state's dairymen.

Roland M. Benjamin, director of the Pennsylvania Farm Bureau that claims 40,000 members, called a conference of farm group representatives at Harrisburg yesterday to draft battle plans. The conferees adopted a resolution stating that the unionization drive "constitutes a major threat to agriculture, particularly the dairy industry."

Joining in the protest were Miles Horst, secretary of the Pennsylvania State Grange; Secretary of Agriculture John H. Light; Herbert Seeley, Director of the New York Dairymen's League; B. H. Welty, Philadelphia, pres. of the interstate Milk Producer's Association; and a representative of the Dairymen's League of Pittsburgh.

Civilian Flight Instructors Are Sought By Army

Army Air Force Ask For 2000 For Service In Next 60 Days

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24.—The army air forces today called upon the Civil Aeronautics Administration to supply 2,000 civilian flight instructors within the next 60 days to speed up the training of military pilots.

A special $2,000,000 fund has been made available to the C.A.A. to carry out a training program to be offered civilian pilots not engaged in vital war work.

Army officials expect that most of the 2,000 flight instructors will be drawn from the administration's staffs of instructors. Those taken will be replaced by graduates in the new instructor courses.

Candidates for new courses are expected to be found among the 83,000 holders of private pilot licenses who for financial reasons have been unable to acquire sufficient flying time to qualify as instructors.

To be eligible for the new instructor program, candidates must be citizens between the ages of 21 and 42 who are able to meet the psysical standards for a commercial pilot certificate and who have soloed at least 140 hours.

Applicants may be married provided their dependents have means of support during the training period. On completion of training, instructors will be paid from $200 to $300 per month.

Army officials said that applications for further training may be filed through the civil aeronautics administration regional offices in New York City, Atlanta, Ga.; Fort Worth, Tex.; Chicago, Ill.; Kansas City, Mo.; Santa Monica, Calif., and Seattle, Wash.

Hungerford To Be Guest Of Club In City This Evening

Girl Scout Council Members, Leaders Attend Conference At Harrisburg

Defense was the theme predominating at the twenty-second annual girl scout conference, held at Harrisburg, on April 20, 21, 22, where a group of local girl scout council members and leaders attended.

Included in the three-day session were round table discussions, dinners and interesting speakers. Reports of the conference will be given at the girl scout leaders' association meeting to be held this evening in the First Christian church. Many worthwhile suggestions were received by the group who attended the conference.

Miss Marie C. Hay, girl scout executive, attended and other council members were: Mrs. J. Clyde Gilfillian, Mrs. Wayne Stitzinger, Mrs. George Ward, Mrs. Paul Butz, Emily Rice and Mrs. C. M. England.

Leaders included: Mrs. Jack Huston, Mrs. Robert Gowell, Mrs. Leroy Shoaff, Mrs. George Stitzinger and Mrs. Mary Curtis.

Plans For Defense Of Pennsylvania Most Important

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—Plans for the defense of Pennsylvania are of the utmost importance because the state occupies a key position today in the home battlefront, according to Brig.-Gen. Albert L. Cox, provost marshal of the District of Columbia

During a visit to Philadelphia, General Cox paid high tribute to the Pennsylvania Reserve Defense Corps and said "there is not the slightest doubt that they will give a good account of themselves in any emergency."

The general warned, however, that "it is absolutely necessary that the units be increased in size so that a complete quota will be ready to take on any task that may be given it."

New Castle High Will Not Abandon Track This Season

Norman "Scoots" Nelson, faculty manager of New Castle high athletics, this morning announced that "we'll try as hard as we possibly can to complete the track schedule."

Within the past few days, talk of abandoning the cinder sport, due to transportation difficulties, was a main topic in the high school. Nelson spoke to members of the athletic council and was advised to carry on, if possible.

Nelson announced, however, that New Castle will have to pass up the annual Connellsville relays, slated for Saturday, because he is unable to secure transportation.

"The government has ordered most of the buses, I believe, to restrict their service to national defense workers. At least, I ran up against this during my search for a bus. As a result, we've decided to pass up the meet," Nelson said.

Regarding the remainder of the schedule, Nelson announced that the New Castle-Warren meet, carded for the Ohio town next Tuesday, will be staged. Nelson has succeeded in securing a privately-owned bus for the trip. He believes that he will be able to do likewise for a trip to Beaver Falls on May 8 and for another jaunt to Pittsburgh May 16 for the W. P. I. A. L. classic.

So far as is known, the New Castle-Butler meet, booked for Taggart stadium on May 5, will be held.

Men Are Needed To Stock Trout Tuesday Morning

H. N. Drio, of the Lawrence County Sportsmen's association, this morning received a special delivery from Corry, Pa., informing him that a shipment of brown and rainbow trout will arrive at the New Wilmington post office on Tuesday morning at 10:45 o'clock.

The shipment is comprised of 800 exceptionally nice sized brown and 800 nice sized rainbow trout which will be stocked in the Little Neshannock.

Several men will be needed to help with the stocking. Sportsmen interested in assisting are asked to get in touch with Drio, phone 811.

Leonard Hurt; Lost For Month

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, April 24 — The Washington Senators today faced at least a month's loss of the services of their No. 1 pitcher, Emil "Dutch" Leonard, whose left leg was broken in yesterday's game with the Boston Red Sox.

In a close play, Leonard slid into first base during the second inning and his spikes caught on the bag, twisting his leg under his 200-pound body.

Manager Bucky Harris of the Senators said that Leonard will be out "for a month, at least."

Philly Awarded Army-Navy Game For Three Years

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24.—With signatures of West Point and Annapolis officials on the dotted line, Philadelphia today was assured of playing host to the nation's annual colorful football classic—the army-navy gridiron clash—for the next three years.

This announcement, made by John N. Neeson, director of public works in Philadelphia, confirmed reports that the service academies intend to continue football during these critical times. The new three-year agreement extends through 1945, with an option for games in 1946, 1947 and 1948.

The service teams have played in Billy Penn's town without interruption since 1932; the games being played at Franklin field until 1936, when the classic was moved to Municipal stadium, which seats more than 100,000.

Thus once again, Philadelphia has won out over bids of several cities, among them New York and Chicago.

Blue Grass Race Won By Shut Out

Result Thursday Converts Kentucky Derby Into A 14-Carat Mess

By JACK MAHON
(International News Service Sports Writer)

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 24 —The Kentucky Derby, of 1942, to put it very frankly, is a 14-carat mess.

This was the consensus of opinion here today as citizens of the Blue Grass mulled over past performances, listened to rumors and tried to figure out developments of the last 24 hours.

Yesterday Alsab, Bless Me, Sun Again, Devil Diver, and Apache were quoted almost even favorites in the Derby Winterbook. After the Blue Grass stakes, which Shut Out won in smart style, but slow time, the picture is very much different.

Alsab, Sun Again and Apache were not named for the first of the Kentucky Derby trials but Bless Me and the Greentree Pair, Shut Out and Devil Diver were. That is the reason for this deathless epic.

Devil Diver, which has been breaking all the watches and pawnbrokers in this ordinarily peaceful hamlet, was a 1 to 5 shot to win the mile and one eighth Blue Grass stakes yesterday but smashed into a stall wall and cut its left hind leg Tuesday night.

The Diver, naturally, was scratched yesterday and the mob went for Bless Me in the big race on the closing day's program. The race was no contest and though Shut Out won by about four lengths, he was no bargain.

Six-Day Golf Week Planned In Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, April 24.—Pittsburgh golfers are going on a six-day day week this summer, and all in the interest of national defense.

The Pittsburgh Field club announced that as an "economy-war measure", the club's operating facilities will be closed on Mondays throughout the season.

He pointed out that many of the course employes are engaged in defense work and the extra pay would enable them to fulfill their obligations both to the club and industry.

Many other local clubs are seriously considering a similar golf schedule for the duration of the war, and there is a distinct possibility that the "six-day-golf-week" will be adopted throughout the area.

SPORTS WORLD RAMBLINGS

Transportation and gasoline, national headaches already, may wield such a devastating blow that football and basketball, or any other sport schedules involving travel for that matter, may be disrupted. Unless the transportation problem is solved within the next few months, it's simple to foresee that football and basketball will be shelved.

Two teams are necessary for a ball game. If the visiting team can't reach the battlescene, the answer is no game. Unless the green light is flashed in the ensuing weeks, an announcement to the effect that basketball and football are off for a while is likely. Supposing transportation is provided for teams, then what?

How about the guy who shells out to keep the sports wheel oiled? With the gasoline rationing plan on its mark and ready to go, Joe Fan will have a transportation problem if he wants to patronize the sport in season. It's a twisty situation. All we can do is hope that a workable plan is designed. For, after all, sports serve as a tonic to civilians, especially in times such as these.

Private Charles Perrotta, stationed at Fort Bragg, concludes his furlough today. Perrotta, unquestionably one of the more talented local golfers, is delightful to look at in his army uniform . . . Charles Cialella, New Castle High's quarterback in '38, had to cut short his furlough. Home for 10 days, the likeable gridder was called back to Langley Field in the midst of an exceptionally interesting chat with this scribbler.

Sammy Aspromonti, back home following an extended stay in Hollywood, peddles back greetings from Actor Bob Sterling and Mose Mancine, the crack local golfer, to the local sports gang . . . A. Bruce Ewing, one of my favorite news scribblin, chums, is mending nicely. The popular News reporter has been ailing since October.

"Lindy" Lauro, who may gridiron for Penn State next fall, was scheduled to leave today for the Nittany Lion campus. Lauro, who studied at Alabama university during the first semester, quit because "I just didn't like it down there. That was the only reason."

Barney Ross, the ex-world's light-weight boss, has been enlisted in the United States Marines. He'll serve as a boxing instructor . . . With the gasoline rationing plan prepared to go into effect, major league attendance figures will sing, no doubt . . . The Detroit Tiger's payroll slash this year was a $200,000 proposition.

White Pitches Second Shutout

Detroit Rookie Goose-Eggs White Sox, 9-0; Pirates Are Beaten, 5-3

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 24.—The outstanding rookie pitcher in the major league as of today is Harold White, 23-year-old righthander of the Detroit Tigers.

He pitched his second American League shutout yesterday in blanking the Chicago White Sox, 9 to 0, as though he wasn't fresh up from Buffalo in the International League, where last season he won 16 games against 12 defeats.

White yesterday beat the veteran Ted Lyons, starting his 20th year with the White Sox, and a victim of a 16-hit attack which engulfed him early.

Yankees On Top

Meantime, the New York Yankees were taking over undisputed possession of first place in the American League standings by beating the inept Philadelphia Athletics, 6 to 4, with the aid of six errors while the Boston Red Sox were blowing to the Washington Senators, 10 to 5.

The Yankees rallied for three runs in the eighth to sew up their game for Mel Queen, who failed to finish.

The Red Sox lost to Washington, which in turn lost Dutch Leonard. The latter started on the mound for the Senators but snapped his ankle after being put out at first base in the second inning and will be out indefinitely. Washington beat the Sox by 10 to 5 to knock them out of their tie with the Yanks.

The Cleveland Indians scored seven runs in the eighth and ninth innings to down the hapless St. Louis Browns, 9 to 2, highlight of the game being a dropped fly by Chet Laabs in right field to let in two of the Clevelands runs.

The Brooklyn Dodgers won their fifth in a row and their eighth game in 10 starts to maintain their pace-setting splurge in the National League. The beloved Bums this time beat the Boston Braves again, the latter being set down for the sixth time in a row, 9 to 5, with Pete Reiser contributing a home run to the festivities as the day wore along.

The win left the Dodgers two full games ahead of the Pittsburgh Pirates, who bowed to Johnny Vander Meer and the Cincinnati Reds, 5 to 3. Vander Meer wobbled to his victory, but was the winner at the payoff as the Reds scored their third win in eight starts. A five-run rally in the seventh gave it to the Reds.

A sixth inning home run by Lou Novikoff gave the Chicago Cubs a 2 to 1 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

The New York Giants beat the Philadelphia Phillies, 5 to 2, with the aid of extra base blows by Willard Marshall, Hank Danning and Johnny Mize as Hal Schumacher was credited with the win.

Caddies' Meeting At Field Club On Saturday Morning

Boys desiring to serve as New Castle Field club caddies are requested to attend an important meeting scheduled for Saturday morning at 11 o'clock at the Field club, New Wilmington road.

Boys 14 years or older are eligible. Field club officials are particularly interested in securing the services of high school boys who have morning sessions.

Kennedy Banks On New Pitch

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND.—Vernon Kennedy, former Washington Senator, now attempting a comeback with the Cleveland Indians, has been experimenting with a knuckle ball that he hopes will help him out of tough spots during the coming season.

Kennedy developed this pitch in the minor leagues some years ago, and it helped him to win a big league berth, but he has never used it in the big time. It worked well in early exhibition games.

SPORTSMAN'S PARK TO OPEN SATURDAY

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, April 24 - Five sprints will feature the eight-race card at the opening of Sportsman's Park tomorrow officially to inaugurate the 1942 Chicago horse racing season. There will be a five-furlong dash, two races at six and one-half furlongs and two at seven furlongs.

Bob Wright, Ohio State star, now holds the Big Ten high and low hurdle marks indoors.

Penn Relays Start Today

Philly Scene Of Two-Day Gigantic Meet; 3,000 Athletes To Compete

By FRANK J. BURKE
International News Service Sports Writer.

PHILADELPHIA, April 24—Three thousand young athletes descended upon Franklin field today to compete in the Penn relays—and to give convincing proof this country's schools are "breeding hale Americans" in unprecedented numbers.

Emphasis in the 76-event, two-day program is on team play, with many of the "big names" now fighting for Uncle Sam. The invitation mile was withdrawn, for example, because Chuck Fenske and the others have sterner duties. For individual brilliance, the fans will turn to the 100-yard dash, the 120-yard high hurdles, and the weights and jumps.

Barney Ewell, Penn State flash, should capture the 100 from a field including Harold Stickel and Bill Carter of Pitt and Moffat Storer of Duke. Thomas Todd, Virginia's IC 4A indoor king, is favored to top a stellar lineup in the high hurdles.

New marks may spring from the lusty arms of Georgetown's Al Blozis is the shotput, Bob Peoples, ex-Southern California ace now a naval ensign, in the javelin, and A. Richard Morcom, New Hampshire pole vaulter who competes with one shoe on and one shoe off.

Team supremacy in the carnival largely depends on the outcome of blazing duels between New York University's Les MacMitchell and Indiana's Campbell Kane. Both are anchoring teams in the spring and distance medleys and the two and four-mile relays.

The army, navy and marines will get their chance in the special service men's mile relay—with long John Woodruff, ex-Pitt star, anchoring a squad from Camp Edwards, Mass., and for the first time, there will be a mile relay for workers in defense industries.

Greenleaf Regains Lead In Cue Meet

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, April 24. — Ralph Greenleaf, the cue wizard from Chicago, today zoomed back into the leadership in the national pocket billiard championship tournament with a record of three victories against one defeat.

Greenleaf regained the lead by defeating Willie Mosconi of Philadelphia, 125-92, in a sternly waged match in which two daring six-ball combination shots were tried—Mosconi failing where the old master made good.

The Chicagoan executed the shot in the 13th frame and when he attempted it, he knew a miss would cost him the game. He made the combination and then proceeded to run out for his victory.

In another match, Jimmy Caras, Philadelphia, defeated New York's Andy Ponzi, 125-54, for his second straight triumph.

Can't Chase Fox In Butler County

Dog Owners Warned By Deputy Game Protector Coen Of Recent Restriction

Deputy Game Protector Frank L. Coen has been informed by the Pennsylvania State Game Commission, that the liberalization of the dog training period in Butler county, whereby fox hunters were given special permission to run their dogs beyond the regular training season, has been rescinded.

Dog owners will not be permitted to let their dogs chase foxes in Butler county until August 20. A number of Lawrence county hunters were taking advantages of the condition and going over to Butler county to train their dogs, but will have to quit the practice now, or face arrest.

Trainer, Jockey Salient To Hoss

Ben Jones Is Griding Eight Hay Burners For Coming Kentucky Derby

By CLYDE L. REECE
(International News Service Sports Writer)

CHICAGO, April 24 — A Derby horse provides the heart and stamina so necessary to victory in the annual classic at Churchill Downs, but without a good trainer and a smart jockey and Uncle Joe's ash-cart puller could just as easily take the $75,000 added, the $5,000 gold cup and the 10-foot wreath of roses given annually to the winner.

Which, of course, gets us to the trainer and the little man in gaudy silks who again on May 2, this year, will govern the outcome of the turf's greatest spectacle and send their horse to the pinnacle of fame.

Running the register of great trainers and great riders would take from now until Derby day itself—and besides, millions of turf followers would quickly nominate "Sunny Jim" Fitzaimmons, of the Belair Stud, as the greatest trainer, and Earl Sande, now a trainer, as the greatest jockey.

But, forgetting all but the fresher years, with emphasis on 1942, the names of Ben Jones, conditioner, and Eddie Arcaro, pilot, came forward with the greatest of ease. This team, separately, garnered many honors on the race courses of the nation, but gained their greatest honors, together, at Churchill Downs, on two Derby days.

Training for Woolford farm in 1938, Jones produced Lawrin, the horse with the "cracked hooves." Aboard when Lawrin showed his heels to Dauber and Can't Wait was Arcaro, in a beautiful ride.

This year Jones is training eight Derby registrants for Wright, the largest number of horses entered by any individual. In the group are Some Chance and Sun Again, both crack chestnut colts. Some Chance started 14 times as a two-year-old in '41, and won five races, placed in four and ran third in one.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS LAND

Instead of another Frankie Genaro vs. Russell Baxter fight May 4 in The Arena, fans will find a Frankie Genaro-Chris Tabor battle and also a Russell Baxter vs. Somebody scrap. This was decided yesterday. The winners of the double wind-up will meet May 11 or May 18, it was announced today by the Jefferson A. C.

We personally believe, as do many others, that the May 4 attraction should be Baxter vs. Genaro and the winner to meet Christ Tabor who holds decisions over both Genaro and Baxter. However, half a loaf is better than none and because the winners will meet later, fans can look forward to three good fights.

Tabor beat Genaro in Ellwood City then followed it up with a decision over Baxter in the same ring. The local matchmaker, Thomas Leach, in describing those fights said he believed that Genaro and Baxter won the fights but officially the decisions will stand as rendered. Baxter's opponent for May 4 is now being sought. He will be a good opponent.

It was tough enough to have the rubber situation confront baseball and other sports but now that the rationing of gasoline is proposed the indications are double that all sports will be seriously affected. Most athletes travel to and from places via auto these days. After gas rationing becomes a fixture they'll have to travel via bus or train. Five gallons of gas won't take a trout fisherman into the mountains. Oh, well, what if we were in Europe or some other nations ravaged by war? This is one time in a person's life when he or she must remember that, if the men who are fighting our battles need anything, they must be served first.

Warm weather is here, likewise baseball, which recalls that in the early 20's there was hot rivalry between the Liberty Clay and Sharon Coal and Limestone and their series was captured by Charlie Stewart's team in Volant. The LC's consisted of Rodenbaugh, Reeble, Hilliard, J. Fair, Dart, Brown, Gwin, Nichlison, Skinner, Coblentz and Ward and the Sharon C. & L.: J. Hedglin, Loinger, E. Hedglin, Daugherty, Stevenson, McCracken, Arrow, Mehler and White. In the last game of the series the score was Sharon C. & L. 7, and Liberty Clay 6.

Bob Whaley played with the Neshannocks in the 70's. He has passed four score years and almost daily takes his walk downtown. . . . For most years in baseball harness the palm goes to Bill Andrews. He is in his 70s and stopped only when he was up in his 60s. . . . The King Tut was the last baseball league composed of oldsters. . . . Charlie Mayne, the city's chief executive, now in the fag end of the 60s, umpired with Rube Waddell in the box.

Recall the three and a half mile modified marathon race held by the Y from the Fair grounds to the Y? It was won by A. J. MacAuley in 19 minutes flat. The road was slippery owing to a drizzle of rain. Johnny Ray was a close second—one minute behind. Wes Rose was third and Rhys Williams, fourth. Those in the race were Dave Royal, John Ray, Wesley Rose, Thornton Allen, Hugh Rock, William McCune, Frank Jerry (who turned out to be a nationally known Marathoner), J. U. Burnett, Zazzarino, A. J. MacAuley, Rhys Williams and Thomas Evans.

Back in 1916, New York saw Jack Dempsey for the first time and acclaimed him a "Dub." . . . Bill Sande was named captain of the 1921 grid team at Ne-Ca-Hi. The election was held by varsity members on December 4, 1920. The only vote cast against him was cast by himself, he voting for another gridder. After the election the team were entertained at a dinner by Leander Kirk, squad member at the Kirk residence.

Eddie Bowen was a promising fetaherweight a score years ago. However, he was rushed too fast by "Mannie" Goldberg of Sharon and an accident cut short his boxing career. The former South Sider is now in Washington, D. C., and we hear from him occasionally. He had two other brothers who fought, Billy and Andy. They also are in the nation's capital, according to reports.

Bowling banquet of the Johnson Bronze Night Turn league will be held at 1:30 p. m. in an East Washington street restaurant, according to G. C. McAnallen, president of the J. B. Athletic association . . . Rumors that Max Hannum would resign as basketball coach at Carnegie Tech are incorrect.

It is likely that fishermen will lay in a supply of fishing tackle, it having been reported today that manufacture will stop after May 31. The auto, tire and fishing equipment shortage will not give the fish a "break" and it is likely 1943 fishing will be as good.

Apparently Wilbur (Fats) Henry is the man of all work at Washington & Jefferson. He is athletic director but has agreed to fill the coaching job vacated when "Stu" Holcomb went to Miami, O., university. Henry was captain of W. & J. in 1918 and was an All-American.

NEW YORK, April 24—The blasting will start again along the golfing trail on May 25 when Pvt. Vic Ghezzi will lay down his musket, pick up his golfing canes and attempt to defend his national professional title in the annual P. G. A championship slated at the Seaview Country Club, Atlantic City, N. J. From there on the boys will go swinging down the lane through a summer of red-hit activity in quest of prizes aggregating well beyond $50,000.

And they will be pursuing Ben Hogan as well as those money bags. He is so far in front in money-winnings at present that only an accident can stop him from landing in the top bracket again. When he fails to get the big prize he still makes a battle for whatever is left and persistently pyramids his bankroll with almost exasperating success.

The one thing that can be said with a degree of assurance at this time about the Atlantic City tussle for national honors is that Pvt. Ghezzi probably won't repeat. That would be a difficult thing to do even in normal times. When you are in the army and limited in your preparations for such a defense the task is almost hopeless. He may get through a round or two but can't hope for much more than that.

The rest of them will be hard on his heels with the added incentive of knowing that the winner quite probably will hold the crown for the duration. Under the very astute direction of Mr. Fred Corcoran, the professional golfers' tournament manager, they wisely went ahead with their program this year even in the face of the U. S. C. A.'s cancellation of its big events.

Next year will probably be far different from this one if the war still is on, and the P. G. A. by that time may have to follow the U. S. G. A., in wiping out its tournament due to a shortage of talent and the pressure of the war effort.

The pro golfers know this, too, or they should anyhow. They are out to make it now while the making is good, without being able to look ahead to any big paydays next year. Mr. Ghezzi is going to have a very hard time beating the tournament-touch, keyed up gents who succumbed last year. That Nelson and that Hogan will run him ragged.

Aside from everything else, Pvt. Ghezzi will find it difficult to get himself in the right frame of mind for the competition, and no matter how much he may practice, if he gets a chance really to practice at all, he will find when the shooting starts that he is off just a mite on his shots—just a little here and a little there, and that will be the big difference.

He probably is going into this one in much the same frame of mind as Bud Ward entering the recent masters at Augusta.

"I'm here to play some golf and enjoy myself," the National Amateur champion said just before he started in the masters. "I know I can't shoot well enough now to win after all that time in the air corps, but this may be my last chance to play golf for a long time and that's why I flew all the way across the country just to get into this one."

I can assure Ward had a good time, he played fair golf according to the modern big time standard, and he flew on back to his post to go ahead trying to help win the war.

Pvt. Ghezzi will follow much the same routine all the way through, and Nelson probably will win the pro title.

SUCCEEDS VANDERBILT

NEW YORK, April 24 — George D. Videner, well-kown figure in international horse racing and owner of the Erdenheim Farm, was president of Belmont Park today succeeding Alf. G. Vanderbilt who resigned to join the navy.

Henry Will Coach W. & J. Grid Team

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Pa., April 24.—Athletic Director Wilbur F. (Fats) Henry of Washington and Jefferson university, today assumed the duties of head football coach, succeeding Stu Holcomb who recently resigned to accept a similar post at Miami (O.) university.

Henry captained the Prexy's 1918 eleven and was an All-American selection of the late Walter Camp. While he is engaged in directing the school's football team, Dr. R. W. Nyswamer will be acting athletic director.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL

The farmers are really going to town this week . . . plowing and drilling oats seems to be the main line of work. And the sun yesterday warmed things up in great shape . . . now when the evenings become a little warmer all will be well . . . but let's not wish for too much . . . we have enough other things in the world, that we can control, to worry about. Why not make up your mind to buy a certain number of War Savings Stamps each week . . . it won't take long to save enough to buy a War Bond . . . Each bond we buy means another piece of machinery for our boys on the fronts. Just as the pilot in the U. S. Air Corps said . . . "You keep buying 'em and we'll keep flying 'em" . . . So let's get going.

* * *

Why is it . . . the people you count on to pay their bills are the ones who leave you flat. Now most people would think that certain professions would keep their word . . . for example, every once in a while you run into a minister of a good church . . . one that you would think wouldn't owe a red cent unless he was just down and out . . . and then all at once you wake up with that particular fellow lying down on the job of paying his bills . . . We didn't pick that particular profession and then leave all others to sit back . . . There are others in this and other communities that could be named . . . Just something to think about.

In the Wanted To Rent column of this paper today you will find an ad that is ordered by the American Red Cross . . . they would like to find a home for a World War Veteran who is now in a veterans hospital, but will be released shortly if a home can be found that will suit their income. All those who think they can help fill this bill are asked to call the Chapter house. One floor homes or apartment is desired . . . near school if possible. Read the ad and then see if you can fill the bill, your cooperation will be greatly appreciated by the family concerned.

How would you like to have a little black and white female puppy . . . all you have to do is call 2486-M and the people there will tell you where you might see this dog . . . Or maybe you would like a part fox terrier and hound . . . also a female and about 6 weeks old . . . Call 2203-W for this one.

Read the classified ad page and forget all your troubles . . . try them today.

STOCKS

Stock Market Under Pressure

Numerous Stocks Record New Lows For Year In Morning Trading

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, April 24.—The stock market continued under pressure today, slumping to new lows since November, 1934.

Leaders were down a point or more, while a number of special issues gave up as much as 4. Virtually all sections were carried downward as yesterday's reaction was extended.

Scores of pivotal stocks were at new lows for the year or longer. Included were leading steels, coppers, aviation shares, electrical equipments, utilities, oils and mail orders.

West Penn Electric 7 per cent preferred tumbled 4½ points to 50 before meeting support. Eastman Kodak, Dow Chemical and Industrial Rayon each were down 2 or more to new lows.

American Telephone, down 1½ to 110, was at its lowest level since 1935.

Among stocks to give up a point or more were Allied Chemical, DuPont, Westinghouse, Douglas Aircraft, Sterling Products, American Woolen preferred and American Car & Foundry.

The low-priced American Radiator, reflecting omission of common dividends, eased ¼ to a new low of 3⅞ after opening at 4 on a block of 4,000 shares.

Seniors Score In Presentation Of "What A Life"

Well-Known Comedy Is Well Staged At Lincoln High Thursday Night

ELLWOOD CITY, April 24 — Comic and serious aspects in the school life of normal (excepting the main character) adolescents were portrayed to the hilt last night at the Lincoln high school by the Senior class, which presented the well-known comedy, "What A Life."

"The best high school play in years" was the comment heard most frequently among the very large crowd of spectators after the performance, which will be repeated tonight by the same cast.

The difficult character portrayed by David Klindienst as Henry Aldrich was exceptional and outstanding, and the ease with which he handled the role showed real talent of the enviable "Andy Hardy" type.

Revolving about sixteen-year-old Henry, untidy, unattractive and humorous, with a talent for drawing pictures of his teachers, the story moves quickly. His talent for drawing pictures keeps him in constant demand in the principal's office, and, like Tom Sawyer, he is blamed for everything that happens about the school. Adding to his troubles is George Bigelow (Ken Thompson), who takes pleasure in keeping Henry in hot water, and who is finally exposed as the real source of trouble.

Henry's heartbeat is Barbara Pearson (Mary Ellen Duncan), sympathetic president of the Junior class, and his one ambition is to be able to take her to the big school dance, which you know he will. His only friends in the faculty is the assistant principal, Mr. Nelson (Ray Best), who finally solves Henry's problem by getting him enrolled in an art school where he can put his talent to its right use, and who incidentally solves his own romantic problem with the office secretary played by Marion Emerick.

The smoothness of the presentation evidence the training skill of the director, Miss Elizabeth McKnight, whose record shows many past successes in coaching high school plays.

The entire cast performed in a splendid manner with each character filling the assigned role in a creditable manner. Of the very large cast, especial mention is due Mary Ellen Duncan, the typical high school girl and Henry's femme fatale; Ray Best for his sympathetic understanding of Henry; Marion Emerick as the "hard-boiled" secretary Wilbert McKim's realistic portrayal of the harassed principal; Helen Cross whose difficult role as the fanatical music teacher provided many a laugh for the audience; Ken Thompson as the "smarty pants" rival; and James Bellissimo interpretation of a junk dealer.

The complete cast follows:

Miss Shea, secretary to Mr. Bradley—Marion Emerick.

Mr. Nelson, assitant principal — Raymond Best.

A student—Joyce Gillespie.

A student—Kenneth Turner.

Mr. Patterson, history teacher — Harold Daubenspeck.

Miss Pike, geography teacher — Betty Jane Graham.

Bill Green, a student — Richard Bleakney.

Miss Eggleston, English teacher — Elizabeth McHugh.

Miss Johnson, health teacher — Eleanor Kingston.

Mr. Vecchitto, a parent — James Bellissimo.

Henry Aldrich, a student—David Klindienst.

Barbara Pearson, a student—Mary Ellen Duncan.

Gertie Sayre, a student — Sylvia Wilson.

Mr. Bradley, the principal—Wilbert McKim.

Miss Wheeler, music teacher — Helen Cross.

George Bigelow, a student —Kenneth Thompson.

Mrs. Aldrich, Henry's mother — Betty Jane Relph.

Mr. Ferguson, from police headquarters — Bernard Beisecker.

Mary Deeter, a student — Teresa DeCaria.

Students — Betty Scheidemantle, Della Salvatore, Lloyd Barkley.

MAKE UP ARTISTS—Betty Jo Walczak, Sylvia Wilson, Dorothy Adler.

STAGE CREW — James Vesco, Kenneth Thompson, Raymond Best, Mike Carrotz, Billy Owen, Tom Crowther, Ray McDaniel, Victor Arcadia.
